Ike Voices Concern At Slash In Aid

Asks Restoration Of Money To Guard 'National Interest'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower voiced grave concern today over a new slash in foreign aid funds. He appealed for a restoration of the money "in the conviction that the national interests of this country are deeply involved."

The White House put out a presidential statement after a House subcommittee made an $809,650,000 slash in foreign aid funds.

The subcommittee acted Wednesday night only a few hours after Eisenhower had served notice he will call a special session of Congress to get more money if he finds American interests jeopardized by lack of foreign aid cash.

The new cut was up for full House appropriations committee action as the new presidential plea was issued.

Eisenhower's new appeal was directed to the full committee.

"The President," the statement said, "is gravely concerned over these cuts. In the conviction that the national interests of this country are deeply involved, he sincerely hopes that final congressional action will restore the amounts to those authorized by the Congress yesterday."

Congress authorized $3,367,083,000 but the subcommittee voted to slash this by $809,650,000 in action on a bill making the actual appropriation.

"The President said yesterday that the cuts already made in the authorization bill were of such nature as to hamper the programs designed for the best interests of the United States and the free world," said today's White House statement.

It continued:

"Here is how the President views the additional cuts made by the subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee:

"1. The cut in military assistance is very deep and seems unjustified in extent. It will seriously delay modernization of the free world's forces in the face of progressively improved Communist forces.

"2. The cut in defense support will compel almost certainly dangerous reductions in the size and effectiveness of the forces now being maintained by free nations bordering on Communist lands. Additionally it will lead to serious difficulties in the economies of those nations supporting such forces.

"3. The cut in the development loan fund — a 40 per cent cut — makes impossible the realization of the important purpose for which this fund was established by the Congress.

"4. The cut in technical assistance will make it difficult to assist our friends, particularly those newly independent nations who have turned to the United States for help, in helping themselves.

"5. The cut in the special assistance fund will not only seriously affect the funds for such programs as the worldwide effort to eradicate malaria, and to aid Hungarian refugees, but will also seriously reduce the reserve funds hitherto provided to the President to meet emergencies which inevitably develop in the world we live in today."

Ahead of the White House statement House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts said Eisenhower won't stand for the subcommittee cut.

"It's too deep a cut," Martin said. "The President won't stand for this. This will not permit him to keep his commitments."

Only a few hours before the subcommittee acted, Eisenhower himself told a hurriedly summoned special news conference he will have to call a special session of Congress if United States interests are jeopardized by a lack of needed foreign aid funds.

Martin served notice he will fight to get the House to restore the amount that the subcommittee voted to cut Wednesday night.

The subcommittee, by divided vote, sliced to $2,524,760,000 the proposed new appropriations for the year started July 1.

This sum, plus a $677,050,000 carryover approved from previously appropriated funds, would give Eisenhower $1,288,200,000 less

Hall Kilndrawers End Brief Walkout

Kilndrawers at the Hall China Co. returned to work Wednesday afternoon after walking off the job five hours earlier in what the company called an illegal work stoppage.

The 12 kilndrawers left their jobs at 10:10 a. m. yesterday in what the company said was a dispute over the division of work. A settlement was reached in time for the second shift to start at 3 p. m., a company spokesman said.

House 'Taken For A Ride'

Here's a home on wheels, but not for long.

This one-story frame home in Wellsville was moved Wednesday afternoon from its original site on Buckeye Ave. to Chester Ave.

The house was purchased by Columbiana County Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford, 936 Center St., Wellsville, from the State Highway Department. It is one of several located in the path of new Route 7.

Most of the houses sold by the state have been razed. Beresford's home is the third moved.

The house was slid onto dolly wheels about noon yesterday and about 45 minutes later was backed onto a lot on Chester Ave. between Henry Ave. and 18th St.

The Broomall Construction Co. of Salem was in charge of the work.

The house was moved off Buckeye onto Clark, up Clark to Henry, then onto Chester and to the lot.

Beresford said the roof of the home was removed to make sure it would clear the overhead mine trestle crossing Clark into the Buckeye Works of the McLain Fire Brick Co. The trestle clearance is 18½ feet. The house measured only slightly over 17 feet high but the roof was removed as a precautionary measure.

Beresford said he plans to build an upper story on the house.

Traffic was halted on Clark while the building was towed slowly by a truck.

Salineville Council Renews Opposition To New Bridges

Salineville's opposition to erection of two truss bridges by the county was renewed Wednesday night when Council returned to its original stand against the spans at a special session attended by some 40 townspeople.

Although the flooring of Blazy's Bridge has already been torn out by a bridge crew, Council last night voted unanimously to refuse permission to the county to undertake the project and plans to meet with an East Liverpool attorney to outline a new legal battle.

The meeting last night was called to discuss permission to lower the approaches of the bridge, but Council also had ordered in a resolution accepting the spans from the county commissioners.

This latter resolution had been passed the previous Wednesday, but had been held invalid by Mayor Karl Lindner on grounds the meeting had been called improperly.

The mayor said he had not been notified the required 12 hours before the session, and Village Solicitor Warren Bettis had been advised to prepare the resolution for re-hearing last night.

A lengthy discussion concerning the bridges was held by Council with the audience participating. At the beginning of the discussion, Mayor Lindner asked for orderly conduct and he reported the talks were held without any outbursts.

Councilwoman Margaret McNichol finally asked the audience if Council would receive village support if it opposed the spans, and a man in the group asked everyone backing Council to stand up. Everyone in the audience apparently got to their feet, a witness said.

Paul Strabley, speaking on behalf of those attending, pointed out Council had received "some ribbing and criticism over their siding with the commissioners," but he urged townspeople to overlook that action and to commend the councilmen for "going along with the people." "They deserve our co-operation," he concluded.

Lindner said he plans to confer today with Atty. John McDonald to discuss the bridge issue. McDonald was employed by Council July 29 to represent the village in the controversy, which stems from the townspeople's opposition to the bridges which they said would be too similar to the present "ugly" metal superstructure spans. The county commissioners have stated there are not enough funds to provide a concrete deck bridge which the residents prefer.

McDonald, who was apparently released by Council last week, also withdrew a petition for an injunction in Common Pleas Court.

Work on dismantling the bridge began Tuesday by a crew of the Ohio Bridge Co. of Cambridge which has the $76,000 contract to install prefabricated spans. Yes-

Friday Trial Set For 2 In Bingo Raid

A trial for two defendants cited after police raided the Disabled American Veteran's bingo game Saturday night is scheduled to begin Friday morning in Municipal Court.

Dennis J. Casey, 1226 Cora St., charged with permitting a room to be used for gambling, and Vernon E. Barnes, 341 W. 3rd St., cited for playing a game for money, pleaded innocent when arraigned Monday.

Judge George L. Brokaw granted a continuance and also continued a $56 bond for Casey and $16 bond for Barnes.

Atty. John B. McDonald, representing the two defendants, both DAV members, indicated today he may ask another continuance to secure a court stenographer so a record can be obtained of the proceedings. Mrs. Mary Toland, court stenographer and deputy clerk, has been ill for several months.

The case was expected to test the state's lottery law but Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper filed the charges under two gambling statutes rather than under the lottery law, which would cover bingo games.

McDonald told Judge Brokaw at arraignment he probably would file motions to quash the affidavits but Judge Brokaw indicated they would be overruled unless the defense attorney could show bingo is not gambling.

Arraignment Set Today In Bridgeport Slaying

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio (AP)—Richard Rutherford, 24-year-old ex-convict, faced arraignment for first-degree murder today in the bludgeon death of Lawrence D. Price, Bridgeport bookie and pool room operator.

Rutherford, who has admitted the slaying, was to be taken before Justice of the Peace John O. Costine at St. Clairsville after the filing of murder charges, Assistant Belmont County Prosecutor Joseph Livorno said.

Meanwhile, a piece of wood officers found near where the body of Price was discovered Tuesday was sent to the crime laboratory to the London, Ohio, Prison Farm for analysis.

Recordings Brought Into Labor Probe

Two Racketeers Will Be Confronted With Phone Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probers planned to confront New York labor racketeers Tony (Ducks) Corallo and Sam Goldstein today with secretly recorded telephone conversations.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee said his purpose is to show that Corallo, whom he described as "more powerful than Johnny Dio in the underworld," came out of the narcotics rackets and linked up with Goldstein to dominate Teamsters Union Local 239 in New York City.

Kennedy said he also expects to show that, in league with racketeer Dio, they helped to rig the 1956 election in which Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa captured control of the Teamsters Joint Council 16 in New York. This was a major stride in Hoffa's rise to power in the union.

The committee already has heard some wiretapped recordings. One of these was a telephone conversation between Dio and Corallo discussing plans to defeat Martin J. Lacey for reelection as president of Joint Council 16 and supplant him with John O'Rourke, who finally got the post. O'Rourke was backed by Hoffa.

It heard testimony Wednesday that Dio henchmen lined up for O'Rourke votes from persons who didn't even know they had been listed as Teamster officials or members.

Goldstein comes to the witness stand on temporary parole from the Tombs prison in New York. He, Dio and Max Chester are being held to await sentence after their conviction on charges that they engaged in a $30,000 shakedown conspiracy.

Kennedy said Corallo still is secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local 239. Goldstein is its former president.

The committee Wednesday explored charges that Marshall M. Miller, a former union organizer, had accepted a bribe in New York and sought one in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miller, who denied the charges, recently was fired as a consultant to the New York Legislative Committee on Industry and Labor. He was ousted after his name had been mentioned adversely in the hearings.

Miller had asked the right to appear to reply to the earlier charges. He protested to no avail when the committee presented new evidence involving him.

The committee placed in evidence an affidavit by David Scharaga, head of the Scharco Manufacturing Co. in New York, alleging that Miller in 1949 demanded $600 and got from him a $200 bribe. Miller then was an official of the Upholsterers Union.

An affidavit by Arthur G. McDowell, an official of the Upholsterers Union, said this union had fired Miller after confronting him with evidence about the alleged payoff. McDowell said Miller "would not deny" the charge.

"I did not receive it," Miller told the committee.

The other accusation came in a sworn statement from Stephen F. Dunn, former Grand Rapids lawyer and now vice president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Dunn charged that Miller in 1946 threatened to bring "muscle and trigger men" into Grand Rapids in connection with labor union negotiations. He said Miller asked "how much would it be worth to the employers" for Miller to leave town.

5,000 Attend First Night Of Grange's Fair

Livestock Judged At Ohio Township Fete Of Fairview Group

Some 5,000 attended the Fairview Grange's annual fair which opened Wednesday at the Ohio Township fairgrounds and inspected prize-winning livestock and household goods among the hundreds of entries.

Rain sent the first night crowd scampering for cover about 10 p. m. but the showers held off until near closing time, according to Paul McGaffick, Grange master.

The fair will run through Saturday with the rides, and concessions bigger than in 1955 and expected to draw a larger crowd than the 18,000 attending then.

Last year's fair was canceled after heavy wind damage to property in the township. Grange members dropped plans for the fair and devoted their time to restoring homes and other buildings hit by the storm.

Winners in the livestock judging yesterday were Joye Foehringer of Rochester R. D. 1, who took four ribbons with two calves, placing both as reserve champions.

Winner in the pony competition was Jack Weigle of Industry R. D. 1, whose pony, "Rocky", placed first in the gelding class.

Other winners were:

Grand champion Jersey, Hyllmede Farm.

He Probably Muttered: Those Women Drivers

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Truman had a fender-bender run-in with a woman driver Wednesday in downtown Kansas City.

The investigating officer issued a traffic ticket to Miss Willie Mae Dunn, 48, for failure to yield the right of way. He reported she edged into the wrong lane, hooking her left front fender on the right rear bumper of the Truman car.

The cars were only slightly damaged. There was no charge against Truman.

Board Grants Ballot Place To Candidate

Washingtonville Man Assured Chance To Run For Mayor

The County Election Board today awarded Robert L. Scullion of Washingtonville a place on the Nov. 5 ballot as a non-partisan candidate for mayor after the Mahoning County Election Board certified a corrected finding which gave him sufficient signatures on his nominating petition.

The board took the action after the Mahoning board ruled Mrs. Mary E. Savage was a registered voter, sustaining Scullion's contention.

The Columbiana board had denied Scullion a ballot place Monday because his petition lacked one valid signature. His petition had been signed by Eleanor Savage of Smedley Dr. and the Mahoning board said she was not registered.

However, Mrs. Savage notified the board she registered under the name of Mary E. Savage of Main St. She explained she goes by the name of Eleanor and said Smedley Dr. was unnamed when she registered. Her home is at the intersection of the two streets, she pointed out.

The board's action means the village will have four mayoralty candidates.

Scullion, Emmett Longbottom and Donald W. Vignon are opposing incumbent Mayor Lloyd Culler, who will be seeking his 11th term. He is serving his 20th year.

Negotiations Will Start On Sept. 4

Union And Industry Conferees Will Meet At Atlantic City

A 40-cent hourly increase, a company-paid health and welfare plan and a pension plan similar to those in effect in the auto and steel industries will be among the main objectives when negotiations on a new contract between the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the United States Potters Association open Sept. 4 in Atlantic City.

The site and date for the conference along with the demands were announced today by the IBOP after a meeting with USPA officials.

The new agreement between employers in the generalware and chinaware branches and IBOP members covered under the contract will replace the present two-year pact which expires Oct. 1.

Eight other proposals also have been submitted by the IBOP and the USPA is expected to submit its counter-proposals soon. The union's propositions were drawn up by the wage policy committee when it met at Pittsburgh in July.

The other proposals ask:

A 40-hour pay vacation for all employes with one year's service, starting with the anniversary date of employment; 80-hour pay vacation for those with five years' service and 120-hour pay vacation for those with 10 years' service;

Time and a half for all work performed over eight hours in any one 24-hour period;

Time and a half for all Saturday work and double-time for all work performed on Sunday;

Pay for seven holidays when not worked and triple-time when worked with Good Friday being added to the holidays in the present agreement.

When work in any job operation falls below 96 hours in a three-week period, the last employe on that job operation shall be laid off regardless of the six - month clause, and shall not return to work until those remaining on the job have more work than they can do in 40 hours per week.

The returned employe shall not be laid off until the work again falls below 96 hours in a three-week period. All employes laid off shall be called back on their job according to their seniority.

All shift workers shall be given 15 cents additional pay for hours worked on the 3-to-11 p. m. shift, and 25 cents per hour for hours worked on the 11 p. m.-to-7-a. m. shift;

All inequities and inequalities be adjusted; and

A contract for 1957 shall be effected out of these negotiations to include an up-to-date revision of all basic understandings out of the 1951 and 1953 agreements. Any sections in said contracts not mutually applicable shall be deleted. The IBOP's pattern for the new contract to be presented at the conference.

The IBOP's wage policy committee is authorized to negotiate the proposals in the joint conference. It has the authority to sign a new contract, call a strike in accordance with National Labor Relations Board regulations, or submit the contract to a vote of the trade.

The IBOP delegates will make their headquarters at the Claridge Hotel and will hold a pre-conference sesion Sept. 3 at 9 a. m.

The union sought unsuccessfully to re-open the wage contract last November when it asked for a wage increase and clarifications of some sections of the present contract, but the request was denied by the USPA.

Steel's Gains Are Stressed By Kefauver

Senate Group Set To Resume Hearing On Price Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said today profit figures for the steel industry this year indicate a price boost last year more than offset increased wage costs.

He also estimated that U.S. Steel Corp. alone has increased its gross revenue about 300 million dollars annually as a result of two steel price increases in the last 12 months.

Kefauver's statement was prepared for the resumption by his Senate antitrust subcommittee of hearings on the $6 a ton steel price increase which went into effect July 1.

Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel, and other officials of the company have defended the July price increase as justified by rising costs and have denied that it would boost living costs materially.

Kefauver said testimony already received indicates that steel buyers will have to pay about half a billion dollars more for steel annually as a result of the latest price increase.

"Inasmuch as the price increase in 1956 averaged $8.50 per ton as compared to the $6 average for this year," Kefauver said, "it is obvious that the combined cost to steel buyers of these two price increases which have taken place during the last 12 months is in excess of one billion a year."

Kefauver added that "since U.S. Steel accounts for about 30 per cent of the industry, this means that these two price increases will bring to this company additional gross revenue in the neighborhood of 300 million dollars a year."

A wage increase went into effect July 1, at the same time as the price increase. But Kefauver said the subcommittee had yet to learn just how much the contract with the United Steelworkers added to U.S. Steel's costs.

Man Pleads Guilty To 3 Beaver Charges

Bernard Icenhower, 38, of Broadway pleaded guilty to larceny, aggravated assault and battery and resisting arrest at a hearing Wednesday night before Justice of the Peace A. J. Knight of Ohio View.

He was recommitted to the Beaver County Jail without bond to await the September term of court.

The charges resulted when he was arrested as a suspect in metal thefts from Crucible Steel Co. and resisting Industry Police Chief E. Jay Hineman at a slag dump on July 8. Hineman was forced to shoot him during a scuffle.

$300 Of Accessories Taken At Gas Station

LISBON — The theft of $300 worth of car accessories from a Hanoverton service station was reported today to the sheriff's office.

William Thomas of East Rochester, manager of the Avalon Amoco Station at Hanoverton, said thieves broke a front door pane to reach a lock and stole various accessories such as hose, polish, battery cables and fan belts during the night.

About six weeks ago the service station was entered, and 11 tires stolen, Thomas said. Deputy Howard Gray is investigating.

4 Church Superintendents Elected

Four district superintendents elected at the opening sessions of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church are shown consulting with the bishop at the camp meeting grounds Wednesday.

In front, left, is Bishop C. V. Fairbairn of McPherson, Kas., with the Rev. Robert S. McGrew, and in back row, left to right, are the Rev. J. S. Mitchell, the Rev. David W. Harris and the Rev. R. L. Page.

Rev. Page, superintendent of the Butler District last year, was named superintendent of the Rochester District, succeeding the Rev. W. M. Cowsert, who served the maximum of eight years permitted under church regulations.

The Rochester District's superintendent's headquarters and home are in East Liverpool. Rev. Page was pastor at New Brighton before becoming superintendent of the Butler District with headquarters at Appolo, Pa.

Rev. McGrew, superintendent of the Pittsburgh District, was re-elected but his territory for the coming year will include the Butler District. Rev. Harris, superintendent of the Uniontown District, and Rev. Mitchell, superintendent of the Fairmont and Huntington Districts, were re-elected.

Committees who will serve during the annual session were also named at the organization meeting yesterday. The stationing committee, which will assign ministers for the coming year, will include the five district superintendents of the past year and the following lay representatives:

M. C. Baker of New Brighton, N. H. Rohrer of Washington, Pa., W. L. Woods of Tarentum, E. H. Savage of Hopewood, Pa., and H. D. Kincaid of Fairmont. Bishop Fairbairn, who is presiding, will be chairman.

L. H. Stevenson, conference treasurer, and the Rev. Herman Hurd, Charles Dillow and O. W. King will make up the finance committee and Dr. C. H. Zahniser will be chairman of the resolutions committee. The committee to collect subscriptions for the Free Methodist yearbook consists of the Rev. James Tomb and the Rev. Frank VanValin. The Rev. J. D. Stevens and the Rev. Norman Engell were elected auditors and the Rev. Harris was named secretary.

Rev. Harris submitted the report of the superintendents in which he appealed for co-operation, fidelity and consecretion "necessary for the success in the great work of the church—the salvation of souls."

The superintendents' board also announced plans for a workshop for the ministers to be held Sept. 2-6 at Apollo. Dr. Mason and Dr. Livingston of the faculty at Asbury Seminary at Wilmore, Ky., will be the teachers.

Attendance at the meeting is slightly under that of last year but late comers expected to arrive today may bring it up to the 1956 figure. A total of 218 were registered at the end of the first day, compared to 249 last year.

The sessions will continue through Sunday night.

Gym Plans Revision To Be Finished Oct. 1

The Midland Board of Education announced today that plans for the $550,000 high school gymnasium are to be completely revised by Oct. 1 by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, and the bonds and construction will then be advertised for bids.

The announcement followed a conference between the architect and the board Monday night following the public meeting of the group in the high school.

It is expected that the gym construction will come well below the bond issue voted in November 1955.

Man Injured In Auto Crash

Motorist Cited In Route 267 Mishap

A city man suffered minor injuries when a car in which he was a passenger was struck by another auto on Route 267 at the intersection with Irish Ridge Rd. Wednesday night about 8.

Robert Charlton, 31, of 840 Northside Ave. was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the head and knee.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said a car driven by Paul Cole, 31, of 1243 Croft St., in which Charlton was a passenger, was struck by an auto operated by Kathryn Wiley, 32, of R. D. 1.

Officers said the woman, headed east on the side road, attempted to turn north onto Route 267 and failed to see Cole's approaching auto because her view was blocked by a car parked in the intersection and operated by James Perkins of M.C. 22.

Perkins was cited for obstructing traffic. Damage to the other two autos was minor, according to officers.

The patrol also reported a tractor-trailer was rammed in the rear on Route 14 near the Pennsylvania state line last night about 11 by a car whose driver turned around and fled back into Pennsylvania.

Scott King, 38, of Lincoln Park, Mich., driver of the rig, said the unidentified auto struck the rear of the tractor about a half-mile west of the state line, then turned around and sped back east without stopping.

Autoist Jailed On Drunk Driving

An area man was fined and jailed today in Municipal Court for drunken driving as the aftermath of an auto wreck Wednesday night in which he was hurt slightly.

Hershel B. Conley, 45, of R. D. 2 was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 10 days and his license was revoked for six months by Judge George L. Brokaw.

Conley was arrested at 10:22 p. m. after his car crashed into a utility pole at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves., police said.

He was taken to City Hospital for treatment of a nose laceration.

Two other drivers cited last night forfeited bonds today.

Thomas A. Washburn, 31, of Phoenix, Ariz., forfeited $16 on a speeding charge after his arrest at 7:08 p. m. He was traveling 55 miles an hour on W. 8th St., police said.

Johnny E. Williams, 19, of 235 W. 2nd St. forfeited $11 for crashing a traffic signal at Walnut and E. 5th St. at 8:37 p. m. yesterday.

Weirton Woman Hurt In Car Wreck

NEW CUMBERLAND — A Weirton motorist lost control of his car and sheared off a telephone pole at the North end of town at 9:25 p. m. Wednesday, resulting in the injury of a woman passenger and $400 damage to the auto.

Hancock County deputies said William Watts, 27, rammed a pole opposite the dam on Route 66, which runs along the Ohio River.

Mildred Grandolf, 35, suffered facial lacerations and contusions and was admitted to Weirton General Hospital, where her condition is "good."

The American Bible Society has distributed more than 40 million volumes of the Holy Scriptures to men in the U. S. armed services.

Bridges

terday a large crane was used to rip out the flooring and today only a temporary sidewalk connects the main part of the community with the West End at the span.

However some vehicular traffic is moving between the two areas by way of a lot owned by Fred Polen, which had been graded to form a route past a loop of Yellow Creek.

A scheduled meeting between Mayor Lindner and County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw at Lisbon was not held yesterday because the prosecutor is on vacation.

Lindner said he spent much of the afternoon in the law library at the Courthouse, however, in order to learn the background of "force account" procedure under which the contracts for the bridge projects were let without advertising for bids.

He said the Revised Code of Ohio specifies bids shall be sought when the estimated cost of the work exceeds $3,000 a mile, and bids must be considered before the work can be ordered on force account. He quoted Sec. 5555.71.

Lindner also quoted an attorney-general's opinion (No. 540 of 1937) which declares new bridges cannot be constructed under emergency repair procedure.

The mayor said the village seeks to have the bridge project returned to the original stage of seeking bids, and wants to co-operate with the commissioners in asking for state aid in building a concrete deck span.

Lindner pointed out the state is constructing a concrete deck bridge at Amsterdam in Jefferson County with county and village co-operation.

Akron District Milk Strike Set Saturday

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Dairy Farmers Bargaining Assn. began setting up a strike headquarters here today.

A deadline of midnight Saturday was set in a meeting Wednesday of the organization's directors at New Milford, south of Ravenna. The targets will be dairies in Cleveland, Akron and Canton.

Joe N. Brown of Jefferson, president of the association, said negotiators would start demanding price increases equivalent to about 2 cents a quart.

The goal is for $5.50 a hundred-weight for fluid milk and $4 for processed milk. That is a blend price of about $5.

Carey Houlette of Columbiana, director of the Dairymen's Co-operative Association, said his group is not planning any meeting and is not considering joining the strike. He said some non-membrs may be planning action.

Midland Council Extends Fast Time

Midland Council Wednesday night announced that it would continue to daylight saving time to Oct. 30, along with Crucible Steel Co., which follows the time set by its Pittsburgh office.

Efforts had been made to have the borough change time the last of September, along with the rest of Beaver Valley.

Church Colleges Cited

It's Fair Time Again

Summer always brings one closer to the outdoors, but it is not until harvest time that the rich bounty of nature comes to light in its fullest and man's debt to the sun and earth is underscored.

Nowhere is this closeness to field and farm summarized in all its colorful wealth than during the annual County Fair, where the best of the animals, produce and handicrafts are displayed in an atmosphere of excitement and just plain fun.

With most vacations over, the summer doldrums ended and the chilliness of autumn hiding in the early morning, fair time offers a golden opportunity for everyone to get close once again to the earthy fundamentals of life.

The results of man's toil with the soil and care for animals — dating from pre-Biblical times — is contrasted with the carnival spirit of former circus days and the electronic tempo of television and recording stars. Like they say along the midway, "There's something for everybody!"

Something Of Value

Senate investigators under Tennessee's Kefauver may bring nothing of importance to light in their probe into prices.

But if they were to do nothing but raise the question of how prices are decided they would have contributed something of value.

To be specific, they would have offset an impression that has been hammered methodically into popular understanding of inflation—that pricing is automatic and inevitable; that price-raising cannot be slowed down by anything within the power of mankind; that it is some kind of an immutable law of economics.

The truth is now what it always has been about prices that rise too fast, which is a tactful way of saying that the purchasing power of the dollar is dwindling too fast.

Consumers retain ultimate control over dollar-dwindling and price-puffing. When they start to hold on to dwindling dollars because they cannot keep up with puffing prices, there is automatic and inevitable deflation.

Deflation is a word that largely has passed out of style since the war boom began in 1940. But it is still in the language.

The purchasing power of the dollar dwindled by 1920 to half what it had been before World War I. It now is about half what it was before World War II. This may be an omen of readjustment on the way.

Inflation is not automatic, not inevitable. It can be slowed down by consumers, who have the ultimate power over prices. There is no immutable law of economics which says prices must always go up — and if the Kefauver investigators do nothing but bring this to attention they will have justified their appropriation.

The Tweedy Set

As was surmised when angry Britons began to bop that critic of Queen Elizabeth's court on the nose, the net effect of the criticism has been to reveal that something was stirring beneath the throne.

The London Daily Mail, which strongly supports the Crown, discloses that criticism of "tweedy set" courtiers who have been advising the Queen is more than a passing fancy. It reflects a solid public opinion. There are many Britons who agree with Queen Elizabeth's outspoken critic that she is listening too much to too few. They want her court to be widened out to include some nontweedy points of view.

The British Throne being what it is, an edifice built on popular consent, a reform may be expected in short order. The fact is — as it is in all countries of the free world — that there is no such thing as a ruling class any more. Queen Elizabeth must acknowledge that her throne is supported loyally and intelligently by subjects who do not know tweed from cheviot.

The axiom of the newspaper business, that the louder the squawk the closer the truth, has been proved again. The people who wanted to punch Lord Altrincham in the nose when he dared to criticize his Queen were only trying to defend her from the truth with their customary misguided zeal.

First Batch

Three things remain to be learned about the Asian flu vaccine released this week by U. S. Public Health Service:

1. Whether or not it will be effectual against the virus in the form it will have taken by the beginning of flu season in the early winter. The nightmare of the drug companies and researchers in mutation of the flu virus, causing them to develop new vaccines to combat it in its changing forms.

2. Whether or not the vaccine will have been distributed widely enough by early winter to guarantee widespread immunity in the event an epidemic of Asian flu develops.

3. Whether or not the public, which has learned to regard flue without undue alarm, can be moved by the threat of a new kind of flu to do something about it in advance.

Asian flu could be one of those things everybody talks about and nobody does anything about.

Socialist Strategy

Party Plans Control Of Private Industry

ESSEN

Deep in the heart of Europe, we have a navy. Not a Swiss navy. A real fleet, watching on the Rhine, floating past the castles and terraced wine groves cut into the mountainsides. This navy carries atomic cannons. We have an admiral in Salzburg, Austria. Not for the music festival but to coordinate our river craft.

Victor Riesel

We have missile sites near Heidelberg. We have rockets in the Alps. We're in the counter-intelligence business, too.

We even let the Russians believe they're really spying on our military installations through their mission in Frankfurt.

We can protect ourselves against the Communists. Rest assured. But what about the Socialists?

These Socialists are powerful men. They are the intellectual playboys of the Western world. They lead powerful political parties — as powerful in Germany, Italy, France and England as one of our major parties. Sometimes more so.

True, they are anti-Communist. But they are anti-Capitalist, too. They do not like the U.S. Some of them loathe us. Some of them ridicule us.

SOME OF THEM await the moment they can take power in Germany and the rest of Europe and break with us or at best give us the back of the hand with positive neutralism.

The Socialists will not fight physically for power. But they may never have to mount the barricades. Their moment may come on Sept. 15 — in Germany — and in the next 24 months in the other big European nations.

On Sept. 15 the German Socialist party and Chancellor Adenauer's party fight it out at the polls in a national election. Within the next two years, similar political battles will be fought in Italy, France and England.

We may yet see a Europe divided between the Socialists and the Communists. If that happens, that will mean the end of private property. Or at best, the beginning of the end.

THAT'S COLD FACT, although the statement may stir some hot tempers. In fact, the Socialists have already begun the process they hope to complete if they take power next month.

Here, in the heart of Germany's coal and steel industries, the Socialists, with an assist from our occupation authorities, long ago made the union's officially and legally part of the board of directors of the big steel and coal outfits. This is called co-determination.

It means that, for example, if the U.S. Steel Corp. had a 10-man board of directors, five would be from the United Steel Workers and five from the stockholders. The chairman would be a neutral who usually sides with the union.

That's only for coal and steel corporations in Germany. Now the German Social Democratic party says that if it wins, it will extend this kind of partnership to all German industry.

-:-

OVER IN BONN, a few days ago I spoke to the second in command of the German Social Democratic party — Herr Wilhelm Mellies.

I asked him if the party would nationalize all industry if the Socialists won. He said it wouldn't be necessary for the government to take over property.

He said his party could take over industry bit by bit by simply making the unions partners in management.

This means that half the board of directors of every German business, including those owned by American interests, would consist of labor leaders or their deputies.

This is the board which decides how much shall be paid in dividends and how much to the company officers.

Obvously it would not be long before the Socialists and their partners in the German unions, the DGB, would control the revived industry which has brought almost lush prosperity to this battered land.

And I believe that as Germany goes, so goes the rest of free Europe.

THE SOCIALISTS have one of the most powerful international political networks in the free world. They meet regularly, as they did recently in Vienna. They have a common program.

The British Socialists, for example, have just prepared an action program which says they, too, would wipe out private property if they take power in the next two years. I don't mean somebody's candy store. I mean factories.

The British Socialists, with whom we may well have to deal soon, call for the immediate government ownership of the iron, steel and trucking industries. And they want stock dividends to go to the state.

-:-

THEY ALSO HAVE a gimmick which would give them power to investigate the owners of a plant and then come up with a decision that the continued private ownership of the shop is not good for England. And the government would take it over, for a price, of course.

Specifically, they have Britain's 500 largest plants in mind.

They're really gentle fellows, these Socialists. It's just that they don't like us, our country and our capitalist ways. And they fully intend to do something about it.

No one is likely to ask me about it, but if asked I would offer the opinion that most prices are high because price-setters are getting all the traffic will bear, not because they are covering costs of production.

Perpetual Spring

Despite violent and tragic events that have marked Guatemala's history — including the recent assassination of its president — this Central American republic has a worldwide reputation for enduring charm and deep-rooted traditions.

Visitors have called Guatemala "the land of perpetual spring," a tribute to the refreshing climate and gardenlike setting of its upland regions. Another popular phrase, "a tropical Switzerland," is a reminder that it also is a land of plunging waterfalls and lofty mountains framing cold, blue lakes.

Down in the hot coastlands, and in the jungle-covered north, Guatemala turns another face in scenes of bright-feathered birds chattering in the forest, huge banana plantations and thatched huts strung along meandering streams half smothered in vegetation.

The flavor of pre-colonial Indian life lingers on in Guatemala. Its population is some three and a quarter million. More than half are pure-blooded Indians of the fabled Maya stock.

More than a thousand years before Columbus sailed west, the Mayas set up a remarkable civilization at such sites as Tikal in what is now northern Guatemala. Advanced farmers and architects, they worshiped time and nature gods in a faith based on accurate mathematical and astronomical calculations.

When Spanish conquerors drove south from Mexico in 1523, they discovered the Mayas' vividly-colored textiles and pottery. The Spaniards' amazed delight is echoed by modern travelers buying similar handicrafts.

Red China Visit Seen Propaganda Move

By David Lawrence

Since the following David Lawrence Column was written, news dispatches from Moscow report that 41 American youths defied the United States State Department and left for a forbidden tour of Red China.

Red China and Soviet Russia have conspired to utilize a group of American students in an attempt to humiliate the United States before the world.

David Lawrence

The inviting of about 50 Americans who have been attending the youth festival in Moscow to go now to Red China is a palpable effort to embarrass the United States government.

Recognizing the maneuver as a propaganda stunt, the acting secretary of state, Christian A. Herter, issued a seriously worded warning to the Americans in Moscow urging them not to act "as a willing tool of Communist propaganda."

The issue as put up to the Americans, in effect, is this: Do you stand with your own government and your own country, of which you are a citizen, or do you stand with the Communists?

-:-

THE LETTER which Acting Secretary Herter transmitted to the American embassy in Moscow, to be delivered to the Americans who have been considering the invitation to go to Red China, is explicit and to the point. It says in part:

"This letter is addressed only to those citizens of the United States who are contemplating such travel to or in Communist China.

"For you to determine to travel to Communist China in violation of the declared policy of your government is a serious matter, not to be undertaken lightly. By so doing, you will be violating the restriction plainly stamped in your passport.

"If you persist in violating this restriction, at the first possible opportunity your passport will be marked valid only for travel for direct return to the United States and your passport will be taken up when you do so return. In the event that you make application for a passport at a later date, your willful violation of passport restrictions will be duly considered in connection with such application.

"YOUR ATTENTION is further called to the fact that travel to and in Communist China at this time may well involve violation of regulations issued and enforced under the trading with the enemy act, which constitutes a criminal offense under our law. . . .

"By traveling to Communist China at this time you will, in the considered view of your government, be acting as a willing tool of Communist propaganda invert the foreign policy and the tended, wherever possible, to subbest interests of the United States, of which you are a citizen."

It will seem strange to many people in America that it should have been necessary for the Department of State to make such an appeal to any citizens of the United States. But Lincoln White, press officer of the department, in releasing the text of the Herter letter, said it is "well known that certain of these people (delegates), if not admitted Communists, are very close to the line."

While some of the delegates may be ideologically sympathetic to communism as a philosophy, there were a few others who didn't hesitate to argue in Moscow for the American viewpoint.

-:-

THERE HAS lately been in America an agitation by many press organizations to persuade the Department of State to lift its ban on travel in Red China so that American newsmen might enter that country.

The State Department has considered the idea of modifying slightly the restrictions and perhaps this move has encouraged other groups to believe that the United States is ready to change its policy toward all citizens who may wish to go to Red China.

The Department of State, however, now announces emphatically why it is opposed in principle to all travel by American citizens in Red China, and says:

"Generally speaking, it is not consistent with the policy of the United States, as approved by the President, that citizens of the United States travel to the areas of China under Communist control.

—:—

"THERE ARE many reasons for this, and they are cumulative. They include the non-recognition of the regime; the existence of a quasi-state of war and the continued application of the trading with the enemy act; the refusal of Communist China to renounce the use of force; and the illegal jailing of Americans already in China despite promises to let them out."

This is a clear exposition of American policy and already the State Department says it has received communications from parents of some of the delegates requesting that their children " be informed of their strong disapproval of any travel to Communist China."

Historic Files Looted

By Rex Polier

PHILADELPHIA

A reputable New York autograph dealer, who unwittingly purchased one of a number of historic wills stolen from the City of Philadelphia's treasure trove of valuable documents, has a warning for every city and state government in the nation.

The dealer, Charles Hamilton, says that the careless way historic documents are often kept by city and state governments invite their pilferage and makes dealers vulnerable to innocently purchasing stolen items.

Historians a few days ago discovered that a great many wills in this city's tremendous collection dating back to the 1600's were missing from filing cabinets where they had been haphazardly kept in the basement of the sprawling old city hall. Hamilton was duped into buying one that had been stolen.

Philadelphia has on file the last testaments of many great Americans—including Ben Franklin, James Wilson, Robert Morris, General "Mad Anthony" Wayne, Commodore John Barry, Stephen Girard, and numerous others.

A year ago, a department of archives was established but the city has been slow in getting around to making it shipshape. Until the thefts, the wills were filed like any other and available to the public for inspection. Some of the more valuable were kept in a safe but they too could be inspected. It was during some of these "inspections," police believe, that some of the valuable documents disappeared.

Some citizens of the old "Greene Countrie Town" recall that the city "lost" its own original great charter conferred upon it by its father, William Penn.

The carefully written parchment in Penn's own handwriting was handed down in a perfunctory fashion. It was lost and forgotten until 1935 when someone accidentally found it in a sheaf of discarded papers.

The city's enormous collection provides interesting sidelights into the lives and times of some of the founders of the Republic as glimpsed through their last testaments.

Robert Morris, the Revolutionary War financier whose personal credit at one time was so good that he could issue $500,000 in private money, spent his last years in the city's debtor's prison. One of his few last bequests gave "to my friend Gouverneur Morris my telescope spying glass which I purchased again of William Hall officer of the bankrupt office."

Among the things in Franklin's will is a codicil which reads: "My fine crabtree walking stick with a goldhead curiously wrought in the form of the cap of Liberty, I give to my friend and the friend of mankind, General Washington. If it were a sceptre he has merited it and would become it."

Mad Anthony Wayne's will was written in his 49th year on the eve of a battle with the Indians.

"I, Major General Anthony Wayne. .. considering the certainty of death and the probability that that event is not far distant from the awful and solemn interview now on the point of taking place between this army and the hostile savages of the West, have determined to make this my last will and testament."

But many cities won't have many historical documents to bequeath to posterity if better care is not taken of old records, Hamilton warns.

Litterburg Carries On

Litterbugs, the folks who toss paper plates, paper cups, candy wrapping, popcorn boxes and other junk onto the highways and city streets with a "heigh nonny nonny and a hot who cares?" cost the taxpayers of America millions of dollars a year, a report shows.

In New York State alone the taxpayers are set back 1½ million dollars per annum through the cost of cleaning up the mess. Few states don't suffer proportionately.

This is the age of the Refuse Tosser and the Litter Hurler, with the public apparently putting on a nationwide demonstration in general sloppiness.

-:-

MR. AND MRS. LITTERBUG and the Litterbug moppets are capable of driving through the most beautiful areas on the finest of highways and treating them both like public dumps. It is commonplace to see mommer and popper setting an example for the kids by throwing the hot-dog plates and paper napkins out of the auto window, even while passing those big signs "WARNING. FIFTY DOLLAR FINE FOR LITTERING THIS ROAD."

-:-

THERE WAS A TIME when most Americans were neat, appreciative of clean streets and would use a trash can if near and, if not, they could hang onto the wastepaper until they came to one. They were offended by dirt.

But today the careless defacer of the countryside and city streets has taken over. The automobile has been a contributing factor, since it carries millions who want the car clean but don't care about the highway.

Parents, teachers, civic organizations, public officials, cops and courts must also share in the blame.

Junior gets no whacking if he litters the schoolyard or the public playground.

Every community knows the grownup who, when his home garbage can is overloaded, puts a load of refuse in a paper bag or carton, gets into his car and dumps the stuff on somebody's property.

-:-

MOST EVERY COMMUNITY has laws against littering, but there are few arrests. And in too many cases when a cop takes action, the court tosses the case out at if it were another paper cup.

But in our book the blame is largely up to government officials who walk through the paths of their own Town Halls without noticing a load of litter and who can make a speech in a village green knee-high in wastepaper, discarded boxes, sandwich wrappings and general garbage.

Too many town officials still think trash cans are experimental. And we once saw the chairman of a clean-up week committee denouncing litterbugs from the steps of a city hall, with one foot in an overturned trash can.

WASHINGTON TELLS of the fellow who said, "Lots of Gluck, Mr. Luck."

We know a fellow who just got a souvenir postal from California showing a view of San Quinton, with the words "Wish you were here."

Our idea of high courage is calling a dentist and asking him to confirm an appointment.

If Neil H. McElroy, the new secretary of defense, hadn't wanted the job he could have told Ike "No soap."

Shoe prices will go higher, manufacturers say we'll have to take in our old pair for a trade-in. Maybe the heels and soles will be listed as "extras."

-:-

A QUESTION asked by legitimate union members and others listening to the telecast of the McClellan committee probe was finally openly put by Sen. Bob Kennedy the other day. This was why bar associations don't do something about lawyers who represent racket unions robbed by hoodlum bosses and who turn up in court defending the hoods charged with robbing them?

TV fans gasped at the revelation, but only Sen. Kennedy of the probers seemed interested in this curious "conflict-of-interest" angle.

Neil H. McElroy, nominated as the new Secretary of Defense used to play the piccolo in his own orchestra. . . . As a tycoon in the soap industry he should be able to give the world a CLEAN bomb . . . And maybe he is just the man to realize that certain of our enemies should be fought with a DETERGENT.

Human Bone Marrow Transplanted From Twin To Victim Of Leukemia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 20-month-old girl, suffering from acute leukemia, has received what doctors say may be the first successful transplant of human bone marrow.

The child is Laura MacDonald of suburban Drexel Hill and the transplant was made from her twin sister Mary. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacDonald.

Laura was released today from Fitzgerald Mercy Hospital in nearby Darby with the leukemia no longer evident though doctors say it could return. She was admitted in mid-June in poor condition from the disease, a cancer of the blood cells which is almost always fatal.

"Because little hope was held for her survival," a hospital spokesman said, "Heroic measures were agreed upon when it was discovered that Laura's twin Mary had the same blood type as hers. The decision was made to try and transplant Mary's healthy bone marrow to her sister.

"On July 11 Laura underwent a massive dose of total body irradiation in an effort to destroy the diseased marrow immediately before the transplant.

"The following day the children were taken to an operating room where marrow was drawn from Mary's shin bone and hip bone into syringes treated with anti-coagulants. This marrow was then injected into Laura's bloodstream.

"The youngster responded steadily to the transplant and had no violent reaction. In the ensuing days, there has been an encouraging improvement in the condition of her blood."

The attending physicians, who declined to be identified, stated:

"This is not to be construed as a cure for acute leukemia.

"This possibly may be the first probable successful transplant of marrow from one twin to another with the preliminary use of new antileukemic medicines and irradiation, and there has been a favorable effect upon the leukemia, the end result of which will require a much longer period to evaluate."

Pro-Communist Scores Upset In British Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — Four years after British troops landed here to back up London's firing of Dr. Cheddi Jagan's pro-Communist government, British Guiana voters have handed Jagan another decisive election victory.

Complete returns from Monday's voting showed today that the People's Progressive party won 9 of 14 elective Legislative Council seats. The party is dominated by Jagan and his wife Janet, both of whom are accused by British administrators of being Communists.

Jagan, a 39-year-old dentist, called his victory "a defeat of musty reactionary forces." He had called for an end to "British colonial dictatorship" in his campaign.

British residents appeared stunned. They believed the governor of this South American colony, Sir Patrick Renison, could not avoid restoring Jagan to the prime minister's post he lost after 133 days in 1953.

Since then, however, the British have added enough constitutional controls over the Legislative Council to assure that the governor has a virtual veto over the Prime Minister.

East Indians, who make up 48 per cent of the colony's population, were jubilant over the victory. In his home constituency near New Amsterdam they carried Jagan on their shoulders in victory demonstrations. Jagan is of East Indian origin; his wife is from Chicago.

Negroes compose another 42 per cent of the approximately 470,000 persons in British Guiana, where only 4,000 Britons live. Anti-Communist Linden Forbes Burnham, a Negro who split with Jagan to become his main opponent, won only the three seats in Georgetown.

A candidate of the National Labor Front party won the last seat to be decided, an announcement from the Northwestern district said Wednesday night. The United Democrats won the other elective seat.

In addition to the 14 elective Council places, three colony officials named by Renison are ex-officio Council members. Renison can also appoint up to 11 members, either at one time or as he thinks necessary to control legislation. And he can suspend councilmen.

Iceberg Season Reported Over In North Atlantic

BOSTON (AP) — The iceberg season in the North Atlantic shipping lanes is over.

"The iceberg season this year was longer than usual," Capt. Kenneth S. Davis of the Coast Guard, commander of the International Ice Patrol, said today. "It normally lasts from mid-March to mid-July. This year it began in mid-February and ended officially Aug. 10."

The ice patrol logged a record 897 bergs this season, Capt. Davis said. In an average season, 396 are sighted and charted.

The last berg charted this season was "a whopper, more than 600 feet long and 200 feet wide," Capt. Davis said.

"It was first sighted by a Navy ship, smack in the middle of the shipping lanes east of Boston," Capt. Davis said. "The cutter Acushnet sat on it for several weeks until it finally melted. That delayed the end of the season."

The ice patrol consists of about 250 officers and men. There are two cutters and several planes.

The bergs are located by the planes, which scout daily over an area about the size of the State of Pennsylvania off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, traditional route south for the bergs after they break off the Greenland ice cap.

When a berg is spotted from the air, its position is radioed to a cutter, which takes up a position in sight of the berg and logs it. The information then is radioed to all ships in the vicinity.

The southernmost berg sighted this season, Capt. Davis said, was about 1,000 miles due east of New York.

"Not many get that far south, though," said Capt. Davis.

The International Ice Patrol was established in 1914, two years after the luxury liner Titanic struck a berg and sank on its maiden voyage with a loss of 1,517 lives.

When a turkey is called a fryer or broiler, it is usually under 16 weeks old.

– Aid

than the amount he originally said was needed to help bolster free world strength during the year.

GOP leaders expected the Democratic-controlled full Appropriations Committee would go along with the subcommittee and send the bill to the floor today.

The subcommittee headed by Rep. Passman (D-La), an avowed foe of foreign aid, acted Wednesday night after:

1. The House passed and sent to the White House a $3,367,083,000 compromise authorization bill setting terms and ceilings for foreign aid in the coming year. The 226-163 vote for passage was a much smaller victory margin than aid supporters had looked for.

2. Eisenhower signed the bill, then told a surprise news conference he hopes Congress won't force him to call a special session later by voting him inadequate funds. He noted the authorization measure was already half a billion dollars below what he originally asked.

In view of the size of the "no" vote against the authorization bill, Republican leaders privately were not optimistic about their chances of getting the House to put more money back into the bill.

The biggest cut voted by the Appropriations subcommittee would apply to arms aid. It approved 1¼ billion dollars for military assistance, 350 millions below the authorized ceiling and 650 millions under Eisenhower's original request.

Economic aid funds would be chopped to 585 million dollars, 165 millions below the authorization and 315 millions under the original request.

On the strictly economic side, the heaviest slash would apply to the proposed new fund for development loans overseas. That would be cut to 300 million dollars the first year, compared with 500 millions sought by Eisenhower and approved in the authorization bill.

BACK TO PAPA. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gehrke—he's 18, she's 13—are shown in Chicago before Judge Samuel B. Epstein ruled they were "flouting the laws of Illinois by living together." MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Anna R. Marsch, 73, of Marietta was killed Wednesday night when a pickup truck driven by her daughter, Mrs. Laverna M. Born, 47, left a county road near here and hit a tree. Mrs. Born was taken to Marietta Memorial Hospital, but her injuries were not serious.

BPW Club Adopts Budget Of $1,000

A budget of $1,000 was approved and the program for the year adopted at the indoor picnic of the Business & Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Gertrude Reese, program co-ordinator, outlined activities scheduled for the year with the initial fall dinner Sept. 11 at the hotel. Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Anne Hagen, program co-ordinators, will be in charge.

The club will participate in the National Business Women's Week observance Sept. 22-28 under the direction of the career advancement committee.

Women drivers will be cited for safety during the week's activities with the health and safety committee in charge and the national security committee will provide a speaker on Civil Defense. The public affairs and national security committee will have charge of the Saturday luncheon and the international relations committee will arrange a devotional breakfast Sunday morning.

Wednesday, Sept. 25, there will be an orientation for prospective members by the membership and federation committees.

"Bosses Night" is scheduled Oct. 9 with the international relations committee in charge and a district meeting will be held Oct. 20 in Uhrichsville. The health and safety committee will have the dinner meeting Nov. 13 and "Christmas Across the World" will be the theme for the meeting Dec. 11 with the international relations and career advancement committees in charge.

The remaining meeting will be Jan. 8, national security committee; Feb. 12, public affairs; March 12, career advancement; April 9, membership, federation and music committees for orientation and initiation; May 14, public affairs, national security, and health and safety committees, and June 11, the closing meeting, under the supervision of the retiring board.

Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh, president, conducted business during which the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Traubert was accepted. A former music teacher in the local schools, she plans to attend West Virginia University for a year.

Mrs. Adeline MacBurney presented the proposed budget for the finance committee.

A report of the recent state board meeting was given by Mrs. Hagan, vice president, and Miss Cora Wickline, District 8 director.

In line with the national federation aims for equal pay for women, Mrs. Edna Jones, legislative chairman, read a newspaper story concerning the proposed "equal rights" amendment recommended by the Senate subcommittee on constitutional revision. It would forbid discrimination between men and women in employment and in other fields. The proposal is now before the Senate judiciary committee.

Several fund raising projects presented by the ways and means committee, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Manypenny, were approved by the club. One will be a "talent dollar" project.

Mrs. Wambaugh announced an executive board meeting will be held Aug. 26 at 7:30 p. m. in the Review conference room.

Some 32 attended the event and red and white plaid covers formed the setting for the table and lighted candles in bottles provided a rustic effect.

Other members of the committee assisting were Mrs. Hagan, Mrs. Reese, Mrs. Donna Allison, Mrs. Alice Bair and Miss Agnes Cleland.

A birthday gift was presented Miss Cleland by the ways and means committee.

Country fair type games were featured with the team headed by Miss Josephine Bonessi winning the most points. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Nessie Dunlop for high individual score and others receiving awards were Mrs. Manypenny, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Wambaugh, Miss Ann Magill, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Hazel Calvin, Mrs. Bair and Mrs. Helen Bradfield.

23 Are Killed In Airliner's Harbor Crash

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (P) — A twin - engined Soviet airliner coming in for a landing plunged into Copenhagen harbor today after clipping a tall chimney in low hanging clouds. Police said one American was among the 23 dead —18 passengers and a crew of 5. There were no survivors.

Police said names of victims could not be given until later tonight.

Seven non-Russians on the plane were listed as three West Germans, two Britons, a Norwegian and an American. Sixteen bodies were recovered.

Six badly mutilated bodies were found floating on the water and were picked up minutes after the crash. Others were recovered from the submerged wreck.

Harbor rescue services were preparing to raise the wreck from the muddy bottom with a huge floating crane. The plane was in 18 feet of water and the job may take hours.

The 270-foot chimney is four miles from the airport.

Some bodies fell from the plane before it hit the water, some of the hundreds of witnesses around the harbor said.

Officials of the Copenhagen Fire and Rescue Service said the plane apparently rammed nose-first into the harbor's mud bottom and possibly somersaulted.

New Reading Machine Due To Aid Blind

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—In about five years, a blind person may be able to read a book without using the braille system.

It hinges on development of a device at Battelle Memorial Institute here which would scan printed matter with a beam of light and translate the words into signals like the Morse Code.

But Dr. R. E. Stewart, director of the Veterans Administration Prosthetic and Sensory Aids Service in Washington, which commissioned the Battelle project, said it may take five years to perfect the device and to make it available for general use.

The device, currently in the drawing board stage, should be completed in about two months, Battelle engineers said. Then models would be made of the "audible reading machine"—as Dr. Stewart calls it—for testing with the blind.

Handling Of Salk Vaccine Attacked By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee said today the government acted without proper regard for economy, efficiency or the possibility of illegal price fixing in its handling of the 50-million-dollar Salk vaccine program.

The Government Operations subcommittee said it found evidence of a possible price fixing conspiracy in the sale of polio vaccine, and also of possible price fixing on other drugs and hospital supplies sold to the government.

The Justice Department already has started a grand jury investigation into whether there has been a price fixing conspiracy in sales of the vaccine. Six manufacturers produce the Salk product under government license.

The subcommittee headed by Rep. Fountain (D-NC) issued a report on its inquiry into the two-year-old program of federal help to states in making available anti-polio vaccinations. The report was approved by the full committee.

In general, the subcommittee decried what it called unimaginative and less-than-effective leadership by the Public Health Service in the nationwide polio program.

The report said:

1. The health service paid about twice as much for the vaccine as did the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

2. The health service got no quantity discount for buying its millions of dollars worth of vaccine, made no genuine attempt to secure inter-company competition before the subcommittee started investigating, and did not try to find out the vaccine's production cost.

The subcommittee said a possible price fixing conspiracy was indicated by what it said were literally hundreds of identical bids received by state and federal agencies when they sought to buy the vaccine. "Polio vaccine prices exhibited an unusual resistance to the law of supply and demand," it added.

The report said the Welfare Department and its sub-agency, the Public Health Service, were lax in not guarding against possible antitrust law violations, and that the Justice Department did not take effective action against a possible price conspiracy until after subcommittee hearings last October.

The congressmen said the question of price fixing on other drugs and hospital supplies arises because, they said, bids for federal purchases of these products have often been identical to within a fraction of a cent.

They recommended that the Justice Department expand its present inquiry into Salk vaccine sales to include these other medical items.

Russia Appears Winner In U. S.-Syrian Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia stood out today as the big winner so far in a diplomatic dogfight between Syria and the United States.

The Soviet policy of making trouble for the Western powers in the Middle East appears to have paid off handsomely in this conflict, which led Wednesday to American ouster of the Syrian ambassador to Washington.

Announcing that Ambassador Farid Zeineddine was no longer personally acceptable here, the State Department also declared that the U.S. ambassador to Damascus, James S. Moose Jr., will not be returning to his post.

In addition, the State Department ordered out of the country by Friday Second Secretary Hassin Zakaria of the Syrian Embassy. That step and the action against Zeineddine, who was already in Syria, were taken in retaliation for Syria's ouster of three American Embassy officials earlier this week.

But the department said the actions do not mean a break-off of diplomatic relations and officials disavowed any intentions to go that far.

The moves against Zeineddine and Zakaria were coupled with protests against a Syrian charge Monday that the United States was involved in a plot to overthrow President Shukri Kuwatly. That charge was followed by the Kuwatly government's order directing that Howard Stone, Francis J. Jeton and Col. Robert W. Molloy of the U.S. Embassy staff leave Syria.

The retaliation came Wednesday afternoon when Asst. Secretary of State William Rountree summoned Dr. Mamun Hamui, Syrian Embassy counselor to his office for an 18-minute conference.

Rountree protested Syria's recent behavior toward the United States and handed Hamui a note declaring Zeineddine and Zakaria "persona non grata" (unwelcome).

What Has Happened To Interest In Reading?

Garry C. Meyers

Before the child who is now in school draws his first pay check, the four-hour week may be here. What will he do with all that free time? Will he spend much of this extra time reading? What has he done with his spare time this summer? Parents in some circles have, during the school years, tried to provide more organized activities — dancing classes, music lessons, skating clubs; special instruction in arts, crafts and sports groups; ceramics and sculpture, swimming, tennis and horseback riding.

—:—

HOW MANY of these children will continue these hobbies as they grow older? What will happen to children whose parents don't provide or can't afford to give their children these opportunities?

If school-age children emulate their parents, they won't spend much of their free time reading for pleasure.

True, librarians say that more and more children are using library books. Yet from these reports, one does not know how much this increase in children's reading results from school assignments, especially in the elementary science and social science fields.

Recent studies of children's interests do not indicate a marked growth in the old-fashioned type of hobby which makes an excellent pastime.

It is wonderful when a child who finds a hobby early in his elementary school years sticks to it indefinitely, or long enough to get great skill and pleasure from it, or eventually shifts with like enthusiasm to another hobby.

—:—

FORTUNATELY some children start early to collect and organize their collections. Leaves, stones, shells, stamps, coins, matchbooks, dog pictures, horse pictures, dolls, china animals; box tops, bottle tops and candy labels are among the many things children collect.

Some children are stimulated to start a hobby in scouting, camping and like, or adopt a hobby a parent or playmate has been enjoying.

Some parents, sensing a child's interest in a certain direction, may encourage him to launch a hobby and even help him a bit with collecting and classifying it.

While too much urging can be a hindrance, adequate encouragement may go a long way, especially if the parent shows appreciation for the child's collection.

If, for example, he is collecting shells, stones and the like, the whole family and their friends, indeed, may be constantly on the lookout for new specimens.

It is wonderful when the father helps to build shelves to display the collections.

Argument Over Look At FBI's Files May Be Left Up In Air By Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a good chance Congress—driving to go home—will quit without doing anything to limit the look a defendant can have at FBI files which contain information from a witness against him.

The Eisenhower administration has pushed Congress for a law to do that since June.

The Supreme Court ruled then that a defendant in a federal trial must be allowed to see FBI secret file information when it was supplied by a government witness against him and bears on the testimony of the witness.

If the government doesn't want to do that, the court said, it must drop its case against the defendant.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said this ruling created a grave emergency in law enforcement. Government prosecutors said they may have to abandon some cases for national security reasons to protect informers and investigation techniques.

And this week FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover wrote the House Republican leader, Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, urging action. He said legislation to protect his files is vital and urgent.

But the leader of the House Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, said the same day, Monday, he wants no more controversial legislation brought up in the House this year.

There are bills to protect the FBI files in both House and Senate. And they are controversial if only because not all members of Congress agree they're necessary. Others argue on how far the government should be allowed to go in withholding information from a man it puts on trial.

Everyone agrees that when the government tries a man — and produces a witness against him — the defendant under the constitutional guarantee of a fair trial has a right to show if he can that the witness is lying or has a bad memory.

One way to do that — if the witness gave the FBI information in written or recorded form — would be to compare what the witness said on the stand with what he told the government. So this had been the procedure:

A defense lawyer could ask the trial judge to look at what the FBI had in its files — from a witness who just testified — and then make available for inspection and possible use in evidence any part he thought might help the defendant disprove the witness' testimony.

Thus the judge — not the defendant or his lawyer — was the one who looked at the files and decided what might help the defendant contradict a witness.

But on June 3 the Supreme Court ruled that the witness, not the judge, should get first look at the files. The court didn't say he could romp through the files, looking at everything, but only those "relevant statements or reports. . . . of government witnesses touching the subject matter of their testimony at the trial."

Here the court limited — or seemed to limit — the defendant's look at what was in the files. But some have interpreted the court's decision as throwing the files wide open.

The court's ruling does raise a question:

Can it be assumed, from the defendant's standpoint, that under the ruling the government woull act honestly, go through its files, and turn over to the defendant everything the FBI had from the witness bearing on the witness' testimony?

A defendant could argue, unless he himself could comb the files, that he had been deprived, despite the court's ruling, of a right to decide for himself what was relevant to the witness' testimony.

The Supreme Court's ruling does raise questions. If Congress doesn't clarify it, the court itself may do so in some later case.

Rare Prairie Animal Faced With Extinction

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Poisoning of the obnoxious prairie dog has led to the near extinction of a rare animal, the black-footed ferret.

Olaus J. Murie, author of "A Field Guide to Animal Tracks," reports the rare mammal is only found in Wyoming now, although it once raomed nearly all the prairie states.

Ferrets depended upon the prairie dog as their basic food and have disappeared as mankind introduced poison to kill of the prairie pests.

Klan Stirs Fear In Alabama Town

MAPLESVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Four Negro sections box this town of 850—and in each there is a deep and restless fear.

For the first time since anyone can remember, the Ku Klux Klan has come to Maplesville, whose population is about 85 per cent white.

Maplesville has just suffered what appears to be a senseless outrage—the beating of six Negroes, four of whom were made to run and dance to pistol shots.

The Negroes are talking of leaving and the only thing that prevents a mass exodus is the fact that the solid citizens—men like Raymond Stremming — promise there won't be any repetition of last Friday.

Five Negroes, one a soldier on leave, were seated on a bench at Earnest Goree's house last Friday watching television.

Will Brown, a sixth Negro, was in bed when the Klan called. He had been ill off and on for several months. The Klansmen forced him to get out of bed, beat him and told him to leave town. He has. So has Goree, who owned his home.

What happened?

About 5 p.m. Friday, 22 carloads of Klansmen pulled up in front of the town hall.

Mayor Henry Clay Nix and Police chief Davidson Hargis watched the Klansmen don their robes and march through town, six abreast.

After the Klansmen crossed the Southern Railroad tracks, they turned around, marched the four blocks back through town and left. It apparently was a peaceful demonstration.

The next morning, the town found out it was not.

Virgil Brewster, one of those beaten, tells this story:

"We was sitting on a bench. We'd gone to watch television. While we was sitting there, we turned around and the yard was filled with folks."

Were they masked?

"Yes, sir, boss. They had only their eyes showing."

Brewster said the masked men forced the Negroes to turn around and beat them from the rear, using rubber hose or blackjacks.

After the beating, Brewster continued, four of the Negroes were taken out into the road and told to start running. Were any of the men armed? "Yes, sir. They had some pistols.

"We started running, and I ran about a quarter of a mile and hid in the woods. While I was running I heard four or five shots."

Brewster later went home and prepared to leave town. The next morning he told Stremming he was leaving, and Stremming persuaded him to stay.

"It is going to be easier to run the Klan off than it is for the Klan to run the Negroes off," said Stremming.

Stremming operates the Stremming Veneer Co., which employs about 275 people, only 15 per cent of whom are Negroes.

Stremming and his wife received a telephone call Wednesday night advising them against staying at home. Police and sheriff's deputies were sent to guard the Stremming residence against possible violence.

Maplesville has two policemen, a day man and a night man.

Nix said there was no law against Klan meetings, and when his police force was confronted by the night riders they did nothing.

"What would you have done?" he asked.

10 Cars Are Derailed Near Middletown Plant

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Ten cars of a 75-car New York Central freight train were derailed today near the Armco plant, south of here, ripping up the railroad's north-south main line.

No one was injured.

Eight of the derailed cars overturned.

Yardmaster Robert Fishbaugh said the main line probably would be out of service until late tonight. Meanwhile, all northbound freight traffic from Cincinnati was cancelled and passenger trains were being re-routed over the Baltimore & Ohio line between Dayton and Winton Place in Cincinnati.

Fishbaugh said the wreck apparently was caused by a broken truck frame on the 65th car.

About 75 feet of track was torn up.

Men Face Scented Future

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Very few businessmen today rub perfume on their ankles to help them solve a vexing problem.

They may be missing a bet. After all, Socrates, one of history's greatest wise guys, perfumed his ankles to assist his meditations.

"The ancient Greeks even perfumed their food and household pets," said Arnold S. Berke, who sees an increasingly scented future for the American male.

At 41 Berke, executive vice president of Schiaparelli's, is one of the youngest executives in the rapidly expanding cosmetics industry.

"Men now buy about 60 per cent of the perfume sold in this country," observed Berke, a student of psychology as well as odors.

"Most of it, of course, is for women. But speaking frankly, we are headed toward a time when most men will use perfume themselves—although naturally it will be specially formulated for them."

Berke sees no reason why this prediction should be startling.

"South American men have always worn perfume," he said, "and in Europe it was worn by more men than women, until the French Revolution came along.

"The trend here is unmistakable. Husbands used to borrow their wife's deodorants. Now 40 per cent of American men buy their own.

"They also are beginning to get away from medicinal smelling shaving lotions in favor of those that have a masculine fragrance."

Berke's firm is one of several that have already come out with special new perfumes for men. His brand is marketed in a bottle shaped like a pipe—to lend it a masculine air — and, according to him, has "a fresh outdoor spicy scent."

But Berke feels that the man of the future has little real choice as to whether he'll give off the fragrance of a walking pine tree or a rampant field of clover.

"The men may think they know how they want to smell," he said, "but it is the women of America who will finally decide."

Every woman knows the lift that perfume can give her. But what can it do for the more prosaic male?

"It gives you the feeling you have after playing a good hard game of golf...or taking a needle shower and getting a rubdown," said Berke firmly. "You feel lke you can conquer the world."

The perfume industry is almost as secretive as the Atomic Energy Commission or an international spy ring.

"There can be from 10 to 100 scents blended in a single perfume," said Berke. "The formula of a successful perfume is guarded as closely as the keys to Fort Knox.

"We are coming out with a new fragrance. But even if you beat me with a rubber hose and put one of my feet in salt water, I wouldn't tell you what is in it."

30-Ton Atomic Unit Travels Slowly

This 30-ton stainless steel atomic core cage barrel to hold "hot" enriched uranium, U-235, for the nuclear power plant at Shippingport was "bedded down" at the Duquesne Light Co. plant in Aliquippa last night, at the half-way point of its slow and ponderous trip from Pittsburgh.

Led by two Pennsylvania State Police patrol cars and an extra pulling truck and followed by a special pushing and holding-back truck, the "big box" poked its way slowly westward all day Wednesday, with experts from the Westinghouse Electric Corp., its builder, trailing along to protect the delicate casing.

Swathed in protective and hiding canvas, the core barrel is shown with bottles of argon gas being fed into it to keep out moisture. The gas was fed into the uranium casing slowly to keep the inside atmospheric pressure half an ounce above that on the outside.

The barrel was due to arrive at the Shippingport plant site at sundown Wednesday but officials got clearance from the Duquesne Light Co. and the Atomic Energy Commission to park the core cage overnight behind an electrically charged fence at the Duquesne station in Aliquippa.

It was slated to begin the last 20 miles this morning.

Fuel elements for the Shippingport plant also were started on their journey from an undisclosed point Friday. They will be shipped to the Ohio River hillside site on separate trucks, according to government safety regulations.

The nuclear fuel will be made up of an outer and inner square blanket assembly of natural uranium surrounding a "seed" assembly of the enriched uranium, U-235.

The recator is scheduled to go into use next winter, with the atomic elements heating pressurized water and converting it to steam to turn the huge turbine generator.

Lollypop Farm Plays Grandma To Thousands Of City Children

By DICK WHALEN

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — It's the nearest thing to having a grandmother on a farm.

That's Lollypop Farm, the local Humane Society's way of teaching city-raised children how to make friends with animals.

Besides being the home of such barnyard regulars as Billy the Goat, Mary Ann the Lamb and Gussie the Goose, the farm has a flock of animals that grandmother certainly never saw in her barnyard.

Long - necked llamas look down their noses on two dozen ducks. African pygmy donkeys frisk with a herd of goats. Tiny, English fallow deer pick their way daintily among the sheep and lambs.

And more city children than grandmother ever saw mingle with the animals in the outdoor corral. On weekends, up to 2,000 visit Lollypop Farm.

C. Raymond Naramore, director of the Humane Society of Rochester and Monroe County, sums up the idea behind the farm in two words: "Human Education."

"You can't teach children kindness and love for animals by showing slides and telling stories," he says. "You have to show them how to feed and pet the animals."

Lollypop Farm does just that.

A youngster finds out that he can't get close to a flock of ducks by chasing them. But with a handful of grain spilled on the ground and he has more ducks scuttling and quacking at his feet than he knows what to do with.

"You'd be surprised," says Naramore, "how many children are terrified by a soft, woolly lamb. We teach them that there's nothing to be afraid of, if they treat the animals gently."

The animals, in turn, have been brought up to treat the children gently. Most of them, including the deer, goats, donkeys and llamas have been bottle-raised from birth on farms or in homes.

The farm population also includes raccoons, skunks, crows, pigeons, guinea pigs, rabbits, squirrels, and even two monkeys that someone got tired of having around the house.

The smaller animals live in cages and low pens, but the larger ones and the ducks roam the fenced enclosure with the visitors.

Ever wonder how pre - cooked packaged rice is prepared? It's cooked, rinsed and dried, and a long-grain variety is used.

Waterfowl Dates Are Set By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department announced today that hunting of most migratory waterfowl will be permitted between Oct. 1, 1957, and Jan. 15, 1958.

Under the department's regulations, the individual states may select specific dates within that period. The states must observe the limitation on season length set for the flyway in which they are located.

The department said the 1957-58 hunting regulations on migratory waterfowl will be substantially the same in all flyways except the Pacific.

The framework within which the states may recommend open season dates on ducks, geese and coots by flyways are:

Mississippi Flyway: Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan and Ohio.

States can have concurrent open seasons on waterfowl and coots of 70 consecutive full days, or two seasons totaling 63 days.

Daily bag and possession limits on ducks remain at four and eight, respectively, with a daily bag and possession limit of five on geese. The limits on geese may not include, in the alternative, more than two Canada geese or its subspecies; two white-fronted geese; or one Canada goose or its subspecies and one white - fronted goose. The single bag and possession limit of 10 coots continues.

Youth's Body Removed From Lake Off Lorain

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—The Coast Guard today recovered the body of Albert Bond, 18, of Cleveland, from Lake Erie off the Lorain Harbor.

The youth drowned Saturday night when he fell into the lake from the sand dredge Rockwood near here. His death is under investigation by the Coast Guard, which said he might have been pushed from the dredge.

New Meeting Set In Bid To Roll Presses

BOSTON (AP)—Both sides in the labor dispute that has left Boston without daily newspapers since Saturday scheduled another meeting today to try to iron out differences.

Representatives of the publishers and of the union representing the striking newspaper mailers agreed to another State House meeting today after a session with federal and state conciliators Wednesday failed to bring both parties together.

The strike of 300 mailers who handle the papers from presses to loading platforms brought a suspension of six daily newspapers Saturday.

An estimated 5,000 persons were put out of work when the morning and evening Globe, the morning Herald, the evening Traveler, the morning Record and the evening American suspended publication after the walkout.

The mailers want an immediate $8 raise in their $94.13 weekly wage. Management countered with an offer of $4.50 a week this year, $3.25 next year and 25 cents per shift to the Mailers Union health and welfare fund Jan. 1.

The Christian Science Monitor is not affected by the strike because its mailers are under a separate contract. The newspaper, however, withdrew public sale of its editions in a 30-mile radius of Boston, leaving the city with no papers at all.

The striking mailers have refused to arbitrate.

Pleads Innocent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leroy Collins, 54, who detectives say admitted fatally shooting Mary E. Simmons, 32, in her Columbus apartment Sunday, pleaded innocent Wednesday to a first degree manslaughter charge. Police said Collins told them the shooting was an accident.

Little League Player Drowns During Picnic

SHELBY, Ohio (AP)—Jack Allen Conley, 14-year-old little league baseball player, drowned Wednesday night in a small farm lake about seven miles east of Shelby.

Six members of his baseball team took a swim after a picnic, but none of the group noticed the boy was missing until darkness had almost fallen. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conley of Shelby.

Braves Sport 7½-Game Margin, Chisox Gain On Yankees

Reds Battered, 13-3; Boston Clips Yanks, 6-4

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

While the Milwaukee Braves have been building a 7½-game bulge in the National League race, look what's happened to the New York Yankees. Their lead is down to 4½ games and their pitching staff, once considered "unbeatable," is hurtin'.

Whitey Ford, the erstwhile Yankee ace, and Don (Perfect Game) Larsen both had the miseries as Boston's third-place Red Sox rapped New York 6-4 Wednesday opening the door for Chicago's second-place White Sox to whittle the Yankee lead.

And for a change, the White Sox didn't boot it, beating Cleveland 8-3 as Dick Donovan won his 13th and his fifth in a row.

In the NL, Milwaukee again clobbered Cincinnati, winning 13-3 as Bob Buhl beat the Redlegs for the first time in a five-year career.

It was Buhl's 16th (tops in the league and matching Chicago's Billy Pierce in the AL) and seventh in a row.

While the Braves breezed, second-place St. Louis was bopped 3-1 by the Chicago Cubs. The Cardinals now have lost eight in a row—their longest slump in 10 years.

Third-place Brooklyn just did manage to break a three-game skid, beating the New York Giants 7-6. Last-place Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 10-3.

In the other AL games, Baltimore defeated Washington 4-2 and Detroit beat Kansas City 7-4.

Ford, the stubby southpaw who led the Yanks with 19 victories last season, now is 7-4. He left in the second inning with a "throbbing" left shoulder. It was a pulled shoulder that sidelined him from May 21 to July 1.

Larsen, 6-4, complained of a chronic "tender" shoulder after pitching his seven innings. He gave up only three hits, but one was a three-run homer by Ted Williams, his 31st, that hoisted the Red Sox into a commanding 5-0 lead in the second. Tom Brewer won his 14th.

Relief pitcher Tommy Byrne also has been ailing, while young Johnny Kucks hasn't completed a game since June 6 for the Yank staff. And with Bobby Shantz (9-3) winless since June 23, Bob Turley (9-3), reliever Bob Grim (10-3) Tom Sturdivant (10-6) and Art Ditmar (8-2) have been the big guns. But only Turley and Grim have been consistent.

The White Sox hammered 14 hits, including three home runs, to beat Early Wynn (13-13) as the Indians lost their sixth in a row. Jim Rivera, and Minnie Minoso locked it up with homers in the third. Donovan also homered.

Johnny Logan hit a two-run homer in the sixth for the Braves, who romped for eight in the ninth. Wes Covington, who drove in five runs, hammered a grand-slam homer.

Cub rookie Dick Drott (11-9) struck out three in a row to end it after losing his five-hit shutout because of a balk in the ninth. Wilmer Mizell lost his ninth, giving up back-to-back homers to Walt Moryn and Ernie Banks with two out in the sixth.

The Dodgers almost blew a 7-1 lead built on homers by Gil Hodges, Elmer Valo and Don Zimmer. The Giants scored five in the seventh before Ed Roebuck ended the rally and protected rookie Danny McDevitt's sixth victory against one defeat. Ray Crone lost it.

The Pirates counted three unearned runs in the first against loser Curt Simmons (11-8) and wound up with 17 hits off six pitchers.

Gus Triandos' two-run homer in the sixth did it for the Orioles.

Lary won with an eight-hitter while Al Kaline hit his fourth home run in three games and two days—for a total of 13.

Moore Takes Split Decision As Mexican Makes U.S. Bow

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—"I didn't punch real good. That Mexican boy confused me with his southpaw tactics."

So spoke Davey Moore, the 129 pound Springfield, Ohio, featherweight challenger, after his 10-round split decision over Victor Manuel Quijano, 130, of Mexico City, in the War Memorial Wednesday night.

For Quijano, 23-year-old Mexican, making his U.S. ring debut after 78 pro bouts at home, the change seemingly made little difference.

Unable to speak or understand English, the slim, blackhaired pugilist started fast and gave Moore plenty of trouble in the early rounds.

Then Victor Manuel began to wilt under the concentrated body attack of the hard punching, chunky Moore and Davey scored often to sweep through the fifth to eighth rounds.

Judge Harold McGrath gave the fight to Quijano five rounds to four with one even. Referee Joe Palmer saw it 6-3-1 for Moore and Judge Dick Albino went even further for the Ohioan, 7-2-1. The AP had Moore ahead 5-3-2.

Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, pointed out his protege needs more experience, and with some action against good 126 pounders would soon be ready for a title match with the new champion, Hogan (Kid) Bassey.

Sergeant's Favored To Keep Pistol Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — M. Sgt. Huelet Benner is favored to retain his national pistol championship today—his sixth title in 11 years.

The West Point Army sergeant has amassed 1754 points in the .22 caliber and .38 caliber contests, eight more than second place Marine Lt. William McMillan of Turtle Creek, Pa.

The final match today is with .45 caliber pistols.

Columbus Wins Again

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The Columbus Jets continued to pound the frustrated Rochester Red Wings Wednesday night. The Jets made it four in a row over Rochester, 9-7, with shortstop Eddie OBrien taking over the mound for eight innings in relief.

Talk Of Shifts Finds Minors Up In The Air

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Until it's official that the Dodgers move to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco, all is confusion in the minor baseball leagues.

So says George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Baseball Leagues (the minors).

Minor league realignment, much discussed at a two-day meeting of minor league officials which winds up today, is up in the air until things are more certain, Trautman says.

"We have no authority to realign anyway," Trautman adds. "That must be accomplished by the club owners."

As a result, most discussion on realignment is hypothetical.

Branch Rickey Jr., director of the Pittsburgh Pirates farm organization summed up the situation this way:

"There are so many 'ifs' that it is difficult to say what would happen if the Dodgers and Giants changed home grounds."

Rickey was talking specifically about what would happen to the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast League (PCL) if the Dodgers invade Los Angeles. He said if that happens, Hollywood's parent organization, the Pirates, probably will confine its Triple A classification to the Columbus Jets of the International League.

The PCL is in a strange predicament. It faces losing three of its eight clubs if the majors decide to enter PCL territory. But, being in an open classification—it ranks just below the majors and just above the Triple A class—the PCL apparently hasn't authority to draft new cities to replace those lost to the majors.

Thus, the Hollywood club, for instance, would be without a home park and apparently would have no chance to secure another.

Darkness Halts Playoff, Rescheduled Today

The final game between Megdals and Irondale in the first round of the City League playoffs was called because of darkness at the end of four innings Wednesday at Georgetown. The same two teams will meet tonight at 6 at Patterson Field. The winner of this game will play Riverview next week in the best three out of five series to decide the playoff championship.

'Fit, Ready,' Rademacher Says Of Fight

SEATTLE (AP)—Pete Rademacher pronounced himself "fit and ready" today for his championship fight here Aug. 22 with Floyd Patterson, but the big guy from Grandview, Wash., complained that his trainers weren't letting him work hard enough.

Rademacher has been jogging about three miles daily before breakfast and going three rounds with sparring partners in the afternoon, plus calisthenics and bag punching.

Head trainer George Chemeres said Rademacher was hungry for more work and he had trouble hauling the 211-pounder away from his training chores.

While the challenger, who has never had a professional fight, was working out in the village of Issaquah, Patterson was going through a similar program some 20 miles away at the town of Kent.

Six hundred people crowded into the arena, improvised on the public playfield tennis court, and the champion's manager, Cus D'Amato scratched his head and said he "never saw anything like it."

He said Floyd had become very fond of the place and the people since his arrival Monday and it was evident the people returned the feeling.

Here's A Tale About 3 Fish On One Hook

BEDFORD, Ky. (AP) — A. G. Spillman caught three cat fish with one hook.

Fish No. 1 was snagged by Spillman's hook, then got tangled up in a piece of line being dragged about by Fish No. 2.

Both fish then got tangled in a line similary dragged by Fish No. 3. Spillman pulled out his catch—each catfish weighed about 6 pounds.

West Virginia Schools Open Football Practice

By DICK LEONARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

Football practice officially opened Thursday for approximately 180 West Virginia high school squads. There were new coaching faces at many places to greet some of the estimated 10,000 enthusiastic candidates.

The flurry of coaching changes, which has upset the usual summer calm along the high school front, continued throughout the state up until the final few days before the start of drills.

Few coaches were fired. Most left on their own accord. Some like Babe Mazza of Ceredo Kenova and Jerome Ruby departed for similar duty outside the state.

Others like Howard Lewellen of Warwood and Sammy Le Rose of St. Albans left the teaching field for private industry. The reason—more money.

A few like Stan Romanoski of Dunbar and Ray Watson of Elizabeth moved up the ladder to college coaching positions. Some like L. P. (Horse) Ingram of St. Marys and Harry Douglas of DuPont hung up their cleats for good — to concentrate on their posts as dean of boys.

An Associated Press survey taken at mid-July showed there were more than 30 reported changes in coaching personnel at state high schools since the end of the school term last June.

Some of these, of course, were of the Tinkers-to-Evers-to-Chance variety, where one departure would result in a triple shift of personnel.

Here are some of the coaching switches reported since the last AP survey:

Wheeling Central Catholic filled its head coaching vacancy by naming Jim Wheeler, former Canadian pro league tackle. Wheeler coached last year at St. Michael's High, Greenville, Pa.

Paden City hired single wing exponent Hen Healy of Bellaire St. John's, Ohio, as head coach. Healy last week coached a group of Ohio schoolboy all-stars to a 14-13 victory over a West Virginia all-star team in the Ohio Valley Football Game at Wheeling.

Sistersville moved up assistant John McGinnis and named Marshall grad Bill Staats as assistant.

St. Francis Catholic of Morgantown appointed Sam Barberio, a Salem graduate, as its third football coach in four years.

Huntington Vinson picked Marshall star Len Hellyer as assistant to George Ketchum.

Fort Gay hired Austin Lycan, Wayne, to replace head coach Dudley Billups, who was promoted to principal.

St. Albans named Claude (Hopper) Dent, assistant at Charleston, as head coach and hired Virgil Carr as an assistant.

DuPont of Belle advanced assistant Tom Bossie to head coach and appointed Jimmy Trent as Bossie's football aide.

Parkersburg hired Paul (Hoss) Starr, former West Virginia University player, as an assistant.

Triadelphia developed a coaching headache last weekend when assistant Bill Hupp announced he would pass up the Triads in favor of a more lucerative assistancy at Urbana, (Ohio) High.

In a man-bites-dog development at Elkview, Darl Wilmoth said he has resigned as Dunbar police chief to return to his job as assistant coach at Elkview High School. The resignatiion is effective today.

In the hit department, Reynolds had three, including a home run and double.

He struck out 15 and walked 5. Wolfe was the losing pitcher.

Records Fall At Women's Swim Meet

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—World record holder Lorraine Crapp of Australia returned to action today in her specialty, the 440-yard freestyle as America's best female swimmers continued their search for new records in the National AAU Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

Chriss von Saltza and Sylvia Ruuska, a pair of young, blond Californians, and a Los Angeles Athletic Club relay team broke three American records Wednesday night.

Miss Crapp, holder of the world 440 free style record at 4:48.6, is expected to meet both Miss Ruuska, the 440-yard individual medlay titlist, and Miss von Saltza, the new 220-yard back stroke winner, in tonight's finals.

Paula Jean Myers, 22-year-old diving champion from Los Angeles, won the three-meter springboard event Wednesday night and needed only Friday night's platform title to complete a grand slam of AAU's five indoor and outdoor diving championships. She won both the indoor titles in April and took the outdoor one-meter Tuesday.

In three-meter competition, Miss Myers scored 511.90 points to 478.00 for Irene McDonald, Toronto, Canada, Olympic diver now competing with the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Miss Ruuska, 15-year-old daughter of a Berkeley, Calif., swimming coach, had no trouble winning the individual medley event with a 5:49.5 that bettered a mark set last year by Shelley Mann of Washington, D.C.

Bolt Kills Golfer

CLEVELAND (AP)—A golfer who sought shelter under a tree was killed by lightning Wednesday. Angelo Lecate, 39, Lyndhurst, a salesman, had just teed off from the first hole at Ridgewood Golf Course when the storm came up. He ran to the tree with his caddy, Robert D. Miller, 14. The bolt struck between them. Police and firemen revived the boy but Lecate was dead.

Robert A. (Red) Rolfe, athletic director at Dartmouth, captained the Big Green baseball team in 1931.

Hitting

Ted Williams, Red Sox—had two hits in three trips, one his 31st home run that capped a deciding four-run second in 6-4 victory over Yankees, and pushed his league leading average to .390.

Lawrenceville Boots Away, 8-3, Game To Raccoon

Raccoon Township handed Lawrenceville its fourth loss in 13 games Wednesday with an 8-3 setback at Raccoon in an Inter-State League battle.

Lawrenceville jumped off to a 3-0 lead, but Raccoon tied it up in the second, then scored four times in the third and once in the fourth.

Although Sonny Pugh gave up only two hits, a bundle of errors by the Lawrenceville nine opened the door for runs in the second and third innings.

Lawrenceville still holds first place in the league.

Borton Impressive, But Browns Drop Exhibition Opener To Lions

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns were on the wrong end of the 20-10 score in their exhibition opener in Detroit Wednesday night, but they found out John Borton is quarterback material.

The former Alliance star rode the bench most of his last two years at Ohio State and has been in the Air Force for two years.

But he played the whole game Wednesday night in Briggs Stadium, after his sore arm improved, and acted as though he was quite at home.

He completed 12 of 18 passes for 161 yards, one pass going 10 yards for a touchdown to end Pete Brewster, and had only one interception.

There were 40,150 fans to see veteran Bobby Layne and the Lions' newly acquired Tobin Rote put on a sharp passing attack that was coupled with two touchdown runs in the final quarter by a hard runner, Tom Tracy, of Tennessee.

The first half was scoreless. The Brown defense halted one drive on the 14, but the Cleveland offense never got beyond midfield.

All the Cleveland points came in the third quarter, after Detroit opened the scoring on a touchdown by Rote. Rote's 69-yard pass play to Dorne Dibble was the big play on that one.

The Browns first got a 25-yard field goal by Lou Groza, only remaining member of Cleveland's original team. After a Detroit fumble on its 9 yard line, Borton's scoring pass put Cleveland in the lead.

In the final quarter the Lions went 77 yards in 10 plays, Tracy scoring from 10 yards out. Tracy and Hopalong Cassady did most of the carrying in Detroit's final drive of 69 yards, Tracy breaking through tackle for 15 yards and the last score.

A week from Saturday night Cleveland will meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in the Rubber Bowl at Akron.

The long discussed trade between Cleveland and Detroit will have to be settled by Commissioner Bert Bell, apparently.

The deal was for the Browns to give up linebacker Roger Zatkoff, whom they obtained in a trade with Green Bay, and who refused to play anywhere but in Detroit.

In return the Lions were to deliver halfback Lew Carpenter and a sixth draft choice.

Coach Paul Brown announced the deal in Detroit and said all the papers had been signed by Buddy Parker before Parker's resignation as coach of the Lions. The Detroit management tried to say that the deal was off, but Brown said he was confident the commissioner would uphold the trade.

Carpenter, now in the Army and due to be released in late September, was the Detroit club's leading ground gainer in 1954 and 1955.

Detroit Victory Makes Wilson's Debut Success

DETRIOT (AP) — George Wilson admitted that his team "looked ragged" and he noted that lot of work remains before the Detroit Lions are molded into a top football team.

And he would have liked it much better if he could have used more players and obtained a better look at some of his rookies. On the other hand, there were no serious injuries—and as the new coach put it—"Well, we had to win it, that's all."

The Lions won it convincingly, beating the Cleveland Browns 20-10 Wednesday night in the opening game of the 1957 National Football League exhibition season. An enthusiastic crowd of 40,105 sat through 83 degree heat and watched the Lions make Wilson's head coaching debut a successful one.

"You have to consider that any team is bound to look ragged the first few times out but all in all, I'm a real happy guy," said the 43-year-old Wilson who became head coach only the day before after Buddy Parker's surprise resignation.

Wilson was most impressed by the newcomers. Tobin Rote, acquired in a trade with the Green Bay Packers, completed 5 of 10 passes for 164 yards and scored one of the touchdowns on a one-yard sneak. Fullback John Henry Johnson, in addition to catching 5 passes for 53 yards, was outstanding as a kickoff return specialist.

Wilson also complimented the work of runners Tom Tracy and Howard Cassady.

Flam To Quit Bigtime Tennis And Begin Business Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Win or lose the $64,000 he's shooting for on a national television program, Davis Cup ace Herbie Flam plans to make this his last year in bigtime tennis.

"I'm calling it quits when the season is over," the 28-year-old from Beverly Hills, Calif., said today. "I've decided it's time to go into business and start a foundation for myself.

"I probably will continue to play in the nationals at Forest Hills and a few other picked tournaments. But this thing of hopping around all over the world is past."

Flam, the nation's No. 2 ranked player, said his plans do not exclude another trip to Australia with the Davis Cup team if he's lucky enough to be chosen. "I'd like to go and redeem myself," he added.

The boyish, crew-cut Californian currently is enjoying another type of fame as an expert on big business on the $64,000 Question (CBS) television show.

His intimate knowledge of America's tycoons, past and present, in two weeks has shot him to the $8,000 mark and next week he gets a chance to double that.

Flam's success on the program brought up the question of his amateur standing, particularly in view of the fact that Olympic hurdles champion Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., was declared a pro last week for receiving gifts on the program "Bride and Groom" (NBC).

"Herbie's situation is entirely different from that of Calhoun," said Renville McMann, president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. "Calhoun was chosen strictly for his background. Flam wasn't. He was screened. He would have been picked if he'd been a bricklayer or a barrister.

"He is not profiting from tennis. Actually he is helping tennis by showing that players know more than how to hit a ball."

Latest Dodger-Giant Feuding Proves Big Pane In The Neck

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Ah, for the good old days of Bill Terry.

Now there was a bloke who really could get a feud going with the Brooklyn Dodgers when he was managing the New York Giants.

His classic "Is Brooklyn still in the league?" issued more than decades ago will live long after his great hitting feats are forgotten.

When Terry left the Giants, the intense rivalry between the two teams gradually died down.

There's another feud brewing today, though.

It's a little flimsy and if old Memphis Bill ever gets wind of it, he'll probably snort in disgust.

It concerns, of all things, the windows in the Polo Grounds clubhouse, which is located behind center field.

The windows on the main floor henceforth will be closed.

It all started during Wednesday's game, which the Brooks finally won, 7-6. During the third inning, with Gino Cimoli at bat, Giant manager Bill Rigney charged off the bench and demanded that Umpire Vinnie Smith order the lone open window on the Dodgers' side closed.

Smith complied.

Rigney complained that he saw someone sitting in the window and that it could have been a Brook agent stealing the Giants' signals.

"It wouldn't have been the first time something like that has been done," said Rigney darkly.

As things turned out, the someone sitting at the window was John Griffin, long-time Brooklyn clubhouse custodian.

When Brook Manager Alston discovered what was going on, he fumed up to Smith and demanded that all 13 open windows on the Giant side be closed. Again Smith complied.

"The only time Griffin gets to see a ball game is at the Polo Grounds," scowled Alston. "He has no visibility from any other clubhouse. They started this silly thing, so I took it up.

"If I had my way, the upstair windows also would be closed and I don't care if that's where Stoneham (Giant President Horace Stoneham) watches the game."

Rigney got in the last word.

"If he wanted to have the boss' windows closed," said the Giant pilot with a thin smile, "I told him he'd have to go up there and do it himself."

Thoroughbred racing began at Saratoga Springs in August of 1864.

Souchak Seeks Second Straight At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Mike Souchak starts today after his second straight victory in the $24,000 St. Paul Open Golf Tournament. Virtually all of the top golfers are in the filed that will tour the 6,670-yard Keller par 72 course in the first round of the 72-hole affair.

Souchak will be tryng to match the feat of Harry Cooper who won the event in 1935 and repeated in 1936.

In Wednesday's pro - amateur, Bo Wininger and Art Wall tied for low pro honors with 7-under-par 65's. Don Whitt, Sam Snead, Marty Furgol and Ken Ventur had 66's in the threesome, best ball event.

Tom Hadley and Clayton Johnson were low amateurs at 68.

Mantle And Williams Set Fast Hitting Pace

BOSTON (AP)—A good indication of the batting performances being turned in by Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle is the fact that each can go hitless in his next 100 times at bat and still have a .300 average.

Actually, Williams can go without a hit in his next 106 trips and wind up at .300 while Mantle would hit the same level if he failed to have a safe blow in his next 103 tries.

Williams of Boston leads the Yanks' Mantle in the exciting American League batting competition—.390 to .382.

There are only 21 other major leaguers with .300 or higher marks among those who have batted 250 or more times.

Marciano Will Reside Permanently In Miami

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Rocky Marciano, retired world heavyweight champion, has left New England and will reside permanently in Miami it was learned today.

Marciano has turned over his Brockton ranch home to a local real estate agent.

Rocky offered the house to his mother, Pasqualina, but she refused to move out of the modest dwelling in which she raised the family.

The Rocky Marcianos purchased a home in Miami four months ago.

Top Aussies Are Upset In Net Tourney

NEWPORT, I.R. (AP) — What's happened to Australian tennis?

With Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall tied up with the professionals, Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser have become the tycoons from down under.

But they were sitting it out in the Newport Invitation Tournament today, victims of stunning upsets in the third round. Donald Dell, a 19-year-old Yale sophomore, stopped Cooper, 2-6, 9-7, 6-4, and Mike Davies of England, whipped Fraser, 6-2, 9-7, Wednesday.

To add insult to injury, Mike Green a second-line U.S. Davis Cupper from Miami Beach, Fla., turned back Roy Emerson, who rates just a notch below Cooper and Fraser, 4-6, 16-14, 6-4.

"It was just a bad day," shrugged Cliff Sproule, chief of the touring Aussie delegation. "I'm not really concerned."

Sproule added that he was not surprised that Davies had licked Fraser.

"Neale hasn't played singles in three weeks because of a bad leg," he pointed out. "He'll come around with more work. That Davies is a tough boy, though. He forced Fraser to five sets at Wimbledon.

"As for Cooper, he was simply careless against Dell. But he's entitled to a bad day now and then, and I'm not annoyed at him."

Greek Student Dies After Illness On Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—A Greek youth, one of 200 foreign exchange students stricken aboard ship while en route here, died Wednesday.

An autopsy report Wednesday night gave the probable cause as Asiatic flu. But other health sources advised further tests to reach a definite diagnosis.

Nicholas Memmos, 17, the dead boy, arrived here Tuesday aboard the liner Arosa Sky. Soon after landing he complained of severe abdominal pains.

Memmos, who lived in Kalamata, Greece, was one of 29 students detained after the liner docked. The others were cleared for travel. By Wednesday only 14 of the number still were laid up.

Suspect's Tripped Up By Weed Stuck In Shoe

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A sprig of weed stuck in the sole of his shoe meant jail Wednesday for a 25-year-old gravedigger.

Frank Urbanski, already on probation for burglary, was picked up for questioning by two patrolmen who said they spotted him coming from behind a gasoline station.

Detective Jesse Strange was questioning Urbanski when he noticed the piece of weed sticking from his shoe. Strange said he went to the service station and found two windows broke and some trampled weeds that just matched the sprig.

Urbanski was held without bail on burglary charges.

First Round Launched In Publinx Play

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Three former champions were in the field today as 157 players from all parts of the state went into the first round of the silver anniversary Ohio Public Links golf championship.

It is being played at the Elms Country Club.

Tee entries were expected to swell the list to around 170 for the opening 18-hole jaunt over the 6,421-yard, par 71 course.

Another 18-hole round will be played Friday, with the 60 low scorers qualifying for Saturday's 36-hole marathon finish.

Among the starters are Len Pietras of Toledo, defending champion and winner of the 1951 National Caddy title; Dave Daniels, 17-year-old Columbus high school boy who triumphed in 1955; and Ralph Schneider, Cleveland veteran who took the title in 1951.

Life Seen Probable On The Other Planets

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The man who discovered the planet Pluto says many astronomers agree, purely on the basis of the laws of chance, that life may exist elsewhere in the universe.

Clyde Tombauch, a member of the staff of New Mexico A&M College, said in an interview that our planet is one of several revolving about one of billions of suns.

"It is sheerest egotism," he said, "for man to believe that the universe was created for his special benefit, or even for life at all."

Staggering English Gets Man In Trouble

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Juan Alicea tried to tell the cops they were all wrong when they arrested him on a drunk charge.

But Alicea, a Puerto Rican who speaks very little English, couldn't get the point across. Finally an interpreter was called to the city jail.

Only then was Alicea able to explain he was not drunk but had been slugged on the head by a robber who stole $50 from him, took his car and dumped him on a street where officers found him.

He was a free man today.

White Sox Win Eighth In Row Against Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Chicago White Sox made it eight straight over the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night, winning 8-3 on 14 hits, including three home runs.

Chicago has won 11 of 15 games from the Indians this season, although that's not so new. Last year the Indians lost 15 of 22 to the Sox, but finished in second place three games ahead of Chicago.

Early Wynn was the victim of the Chicago assault, making his season record 13-13. Four singles scored two runs in the second inning, and in the third three more came in on three hits —a double by Larry Doby sandwiched between homers by Minnie Minoso and Jim Rivera.

Wynn left for a hitter in the fourth, trailing 5-2. The Indians had scored twice in the third on singles by Vic Wertz and Bob Avila, who hit three apiece in the game, an error and a walk.

Bud Daley, who replaced Wynn, gave up a home run to the first batter he faced—Chicago pitcher Dick Donovan. The White Sox scored two more in the inning, but Daley pitched shutout ball over the last five frames.

Donovan allowed nine hits in posting his 13th victory against three defeats. The final Cleveland run in the ninth was unearned because of an error by Sam Esposito which follower a walk. Al Smith singled in Roger Maris.

Reds Clobbered Again As Braves Keep Rolling

CINCINNATI (AP)—Might as well admit it, mates, there isn't likely to be any part of any World Series played in Cincinnati this year!

Milwaukee did it again Wednesday night, 13-3—just like they did it up in Braveland a week before, 12-2. This time, the loss pushed Birdie Tebbetts' men nine games off the lead. It was Milwaukee's 13th victory in 15 starts, and their 9th in a row over all comers.

Bob Buhl won his 16th—tops in the league— and his first triumph over the Rhinelanders. But it was Don McMahonon, relieving in the eighth after George Crowe hit his 28th homerun of the year who helped mightily.

McMahonon doubled with the bases loaded after Wes Covington unleashed a grand-slam circuit clout. In all, with the help of a single, eight runs crossed the plate on only five hits—sparked mainly by three successive passes issued by Johnny Klippstein. He was the second of three hurlers who paraded to the mound after Brooks Lawrence was yanked two thirds of the way through the sixth.

Johnny Logan unleashed a two-run homer, his 10th, in the third, scoring behind Bob Hazle, who had singled. The game was hardly a minute old when, after Red Schoendienst flied out, Frank Torre singled, Eddie Mathews walked and Hank Aaron singled, pushing Torre across the plate.

Brave bats went to work again in the third to make it 3-0. Mathews singled, Aaron walked and Covington singled, scoring Mathews. Hazle followed with a double to tally Aaron.

Home runs accounted for all three Redleg runs. Joe Taylor and Gus Bell both hit first pitches in the fourth. It was Taylor's first homer of his so-far brief stay with the Reds. He came up two weeks ago from Seattle. It was Bell's 13th.

Man Fashions Career Behind Prison Walls

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—A convict at Southern Michigan Prison is scheduled to walk out Friday with a parole to pursue a career he began behind the prison walls.

Although he never has been inside a newspaper office, Don Lowry, 42, is going to a job as rewrite man on a Vancouver, B.C. newspaper.

He never had written for publication until he arrived at Southern Michigan Prison three years and four months ago to serve 3 to 14 years for check forgery.

Shortly after arrival, he began contributing book reviews to the Spectator, the prison's weekly newspaper. He later became a reporter and then was named editor, a post he held 18 months.

Under his hand the Spectator, the "hometown newspaper" for more than 5,000 prisoners, was expanded from 4 to 10 pages.

Blood Donors Clear Way For Extractions

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Fred House can have his teeth pulled now.

Fred, 9, has hemophilia, excessive bleeding from even minor wounds. His doctors said Tuesday he'd have to wait until 10 pints of type A-negative blood were available before the teeth could be extracted. It took 17 tranfusions the last time he had teeth pulled.

After Fred's plight was publicized Wednesday more than enough offers were made including some from a woman in Maryland, a truck driver in New York, a Huntington, W. Va., man, 11 soldiers at nearby Fort Knox and numerous persons here.

Empty Casket Found Along Canal In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Police in suburban Madison Heights are looking for some body who lost a casket.

Two youngsters found the empty casket along the bank of the Red Run drainage canal Wednesday. It was covered with felt and appeared to be new.

Police said they had no idea how it got there.

Battle Begun To Bar Stars From Stand

By JACK LEFLER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state launches a legal battle today to save more than 100 Hollywood celebrities from filmdom's hottest spot—the witness stand in the Confidential trial.

The defense attorney in the criminal libel trial of Confidential and its sister scandal magazine, Whisper, says he has subpoenaed the celebrities for just one reason: To ask them, under oath, if what the magazines said about them was true.

These are film folk named in scandal magazine stories other than the 10 stories on which the grand jury indictment was based. The prosecution contends such testimony would be immaterial to the stories on which its case is built.

Thirteen stories accusing movie stars of illicit amorous adventures were poured into the ears of the jurors Wednesday. The case is in recess today, but more sex-packed stories are expected to flow from the witness stand when the trial resumes Friday.

Prosecuting attorneys gave the recital in an attempt to prove that the magazines libeled the subjects of the articles and published lewd and obscene matter.

The stories have provoked libel suits asking nearly 35 million dollars.

Also to be argued today is a defense motion to eliminate the criminal libel charge. It contends that malice has not been proved.

It's Strictly Question Of When Pet's A Pet

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—It's getting rough for animal pet owners in this state.

Last week neighbors of Ralph Resteuccio of Ewing Township near Trenton complained about the 400-pound lion he keeps around the house. They took the matter to court.

Wednesday Abraham Kievit, here, was told by the Health Department that he must get rid of his six-foot boa constrictor.

Future Formats Eyed In Television

Marie Torre

Television is the subject of private meetings between Ethel Merman and Phil Silvers, who will not deny there's a joint venture in their future. Whatever the proposition, it's an interesting combination . . . . Texaco's "Command Appearance," upcoming on NBC, has been tapping all sorts of potential guest stars, but most of them don't care to be "commanded." . . .

June Allyson's "price" for skipping through the Standard Oil spectacular in November is the whopping sum of $50,000. . . . The endless public bickering between Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis is, to say the least, jejeune.

Attesting to this age of specialization is an item on the call sheet of a soon-to-be-made "Circus Boy" episode which lists "One Kissing Girl." And is she supposed to "tell," too?

-:-

ARLENE FRANCIS' "Home" show made its exit with a tearful walk down memory lane, resurrecting some of the finer kinescoped moments during its all-too-short life of three and a half years.

It was an hour of warmth and integrity, and to this viewer the parting wasn't sweet sorrow. (In a fitting close, "Home's" star writer, Marian Pober — Mrs. Al Drosin — gave birth to twin boys at Doctors Hospital while the show was saying farewell.)

Arlene put "Home" thoughts behind her last week and launched a new half-hour venture. She's asking professional viewers to judge the show on the basis of its first week, rather than the debut performance.

"Each show," she informs, "will really be a 'first day' covering most of the elements we'll be programming in the future, and it would be helpful to have your point of view based on the whole week instead of the first day alone."

-:-

THEATER NETWORK Television reports the largest demand in its history for theater rights to the closed-circuit telecast of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Carmen Basilio middleweight championship bout. Fifty-one theaters already have been cleared, and 100 more are expected to be added by TNT for the Sept. 23 event. . . .

If current negotiations work out, Tex and Jinx McCrary will alight on ABC with a Sunday 6:30 p.m. show whereby Jinx will take her place before cameras and Tex behind them. . . . Arthur Godfrey is vacationing until Sept. 16.

"Climax" should have been called "Frenzy" when Diana Lynn, Robert Preston and Kurt Kaznar enacted "Trial of Terror." They pantingly chased one another as if at a track meet. . . . The four Shirley Temple movies expected on the TV horizon in October are "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Captain January," "Wee Willie Winkie" and "Heidi," all made between 1934 and 1940. . . .

-:-

NOTING WE'RE "in the dark" as to the honesty of quiz shows, Dan Enright (Jack Barry's partner) writes: "May I state unequivocally that there is no fix in any of the shows which we handle. I don't know whether this helps lead you out of the dark, but it should shed some light." . . .

Prize-winning film editor Morrie Roizman weaves his celluloid magic at Transfilm, Inc. from this week on. . . .

Dog trainer Halleck Driscoll is trying to start a feud between Lassie and Asta (Soon to be seen in "The Thin Man" series). Driscoll says: "Asta is much more clever than Lassie."

To convince sponsors of the merits of "Wagon Train," upcoming on NBC, the network submitted the pilot film for a Schwerin pre-test and now toots "it is the highest scoring program ever tested in the western category," including "Cheyenne" and "Wyatt Earp."

The fast-coming network program plans are totally devoid of shows for children, most avid of TV viewers. The shortsightedness is appalling.

Berm Project For Midland Meets Delay

Council Informed Job Not Scheduled By Highway Office

The Pennsylvania Highway Department informed Midland Council Wednesday night finishing of the raised berm on Midland Ave. is not planned in the current road program.

The berm remained from a resurfacing of part of the street and the borough was promised earlier that the remaining half would be resurfaced this year.

Burgess Eli Corak, who had the understanding with the former high way department head, said the present resurfaced center strip is a "90 per cent improvement" over the former pocked condition of the avenue.

He said he had the word of two state representatives and a state senator that the job would be completed this year.

Councilman Joseph Lynch said other communities in the state had their main streets resurfaced curb to curb.

He said state officials seem to promise the Midland improvements only during election time.

Council reported a $5,323 check had been received from the Civil Defense disaster program as part payment for damage the borough suffered in a severe storm a year ago.

The drainage system under Lincoln Park burst during the storm and flooded the park. The repairs cost $6,500.

Richard Steebner, borough engineer, informed Council that a Pittsburgh scrap broker had requested permission to cross borough property at the west end to load metal being reclaimed at the Smiths Ferry slag dump of the Crucible Steel Co.

The matter was referred to the solicitor and Steebner for study.

Lester Trainer, police committee chairman, reported that the package insurance plan for borough workers had been approved by the labor committee and representatives of the United Steelworkers Local 1212.

He recommended the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. policy.

He said the plan will cost $19 annually for each worker, half to be paid by the borough and half by the employe.

The policy calls for $3,900 life insurance and $4,650 sick and accident insurance. Council approved the signing.

Arthur Reed, president, said he plans to meet with the police committee and members of the borough force over the pension plan proposed for the officers.

Police now have a deductable plan and have $45,000 towards the retirement pay of officers.

The plan being studied calls for retirement at 60 after 20 years service.

It is to be effective in January.

The present retirement fund will be turned over to Council when the new plan is adopted.

Corak said police would be instructed to clamp down on daytime parking in Midland Heights.

He said cars will be tagged and a report will be made by the officer to the chief so the driver can not avoid paying the ticket.

Steebner said he is listing Elm St., 10th St., 15th St. and Park Place E. on the state resurfacing project, which is paid by gas tax refunds from the state.

He recommended a double seal coating instead of resurfacing.

He said Virginia Ave. and 13th St. are on the present project under the tax refund program.

Steebner said the first house is being built in the new residential area of Park Place North and that bids on water lines for the 33-lot development will be opened Tuesday.

He said he plans to notify the Duquesne Light Co. to install lines in the new residential area. The company said it would begin the work when the first home was started.

The gas radon is four times as heavy as iron.

PATRICK THIENES, 73, lolls back and rests his dawgs in Chicago, where he walked from his home in San Diego, Calif. Thienes is on his way to New York, where he expects to arrive Sept. 5. He left San Diego June 29. Thienes, a retired railroad passenger brakeman, took up long distance walking in 1906 in convalescing after a polio attack.

Drought Menaces Corn In Hancock

Hancock County corn crops are being badly effected by the lack of rain, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said today.

Johnson quoted C. C. Herron, a Pughtown area farmer, who said "Even if the rains do come, corn yields already have been cut by one third'."

Corn in deep fertile soil is earing, while corn on dry land is a failure, Johnson said. Corn on good hillside soil can't make more than two-thirds of a crop. If there is not abundant rain soon, it won't be half a crop, he said.

There has been little rain in the county for a month. Corn requires tremendous amounts of plant food at tasseling and earing time and if the soil is too dry, the plant food is not available, Johnson explained.

Johnson said he has received complaints from farmers of Japanese bettles eating the silk off the ears. Johnson said that according to his observation, this has not affected pollination of the corn to a serious degree in the past but that the absence of silk leaves an open place for sow bugs and an invitation to birds to feed.

The skin area of an average adult is about 20 square feet.

Hiss Makes $12,000 In New Position

NEW YORK (AP)—Alger Hiss is working as $12,000-a-year administrative assistant to the president of a New York City firm which manufactures women's combs.

The employment of the convicted former State Department official became known Wednesday.

Hiss is an aide to R. Andrew Smith, president of Feathercombs Inc.

Smith said Hiss has made himself "quite indispensable" in the three months since he joined the firm.

Smith said he had heard Hiss was in need of a job and offered him a "clerical" post which was accepted at $100 a week. Hiss was so "tremendously successful" at solving office problems and improving procedures that he was promoted rapidly, Smith said.

The firm has about 1,000 employes—150 in New York and the others in Germany and Japan.

Hiss was released from a federal penitentiary in November 1954, after serving three years and eight months of a five-year sentence for perjury. He was convicted of denying falsely before a U.S. grand jury that he passed out State Department secrets to Whittaker Chambers, onetime courier for a Russian spy ring.

Winking of the eye is considered the fastest physical thing a person can do.

CAPITAL PRIZE. June Roberta Cook, 20, of Arlington, Va., shouted with joy as she learned that she had been named "Miss Washington" and will represent the nation's capital in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City. One of the runners-up, Miss Honey Applebaum (left), congratulates the winner.

Arrives At Base

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Lt. Col. Leslie E. Gaskins, 35-year-old Air Force pilot from Peebles, Ohio, who ploted a B47 Stratojet bomber on a 11,257-mile, non-stop flight from Guam to Morocco last weekend, arrived at Pinecastle Air Force Base Wednesday with the other members of the crew.

Minister Climbs Highest Point In Each Of States

RED LODGE, Mont. (AP) — The Rev. F.W. McDermott, 59-year-old Springfield, Ill., minister, has fulfilled his long ambition to climb the highest point in each of the 48 states. The last step, he said Wednesday, was the toughest.

McDermott passed through Red Lodge late Wednesday on his way home after climbing 12,850 - foot Granite Peak in southern Montana —the last step in a series of climbs extanding over several years.

"This was the toughest climb of them all," he said.

McDermott climbed 13,785-foot Gannett Peak in northwestern Wyoming last week and 12,665-foot Mount Borah in central Idaho about a week earlier.

Woman, Rescuer Survive 17-Hour Ordeal At Sea

By BERNARD DIEDERICH

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—A 70-year-old grandmother who can't swim says she and a young rescuer just hung on to a buoyant mattress and floated and prayed during a 17-hour ordeal in the Caribbean.

"My heart was all right with God," said Mrs. Ruth Nelson of Bradenton, Fla., Wednesday night.

Mrs. Nelson was swept into the sea Monday night when the prayer-cruise schooner Janeen heeled over sharply in a sudden storm two miles off the Haitian coast near Miragoane.

Mrs. John Shuler, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist Church at Paris, Tex., was carried overboard at the same time but she managed to grab a rope and was hauled back aboard the schooner.

Bill Dozier, 17, of Sarasota, Fla. leaped into the storm-lashed sea in an effort to reach Mrs. Nelson.

"When the storm struck I was sitting on a mattress on deck beside Mrs. Shuler," Mrs. Nelson said. "In a flash we were in the water and the next thing I knew was that Bill Dozier had grabbed me and a mattress came floating right into our arms.

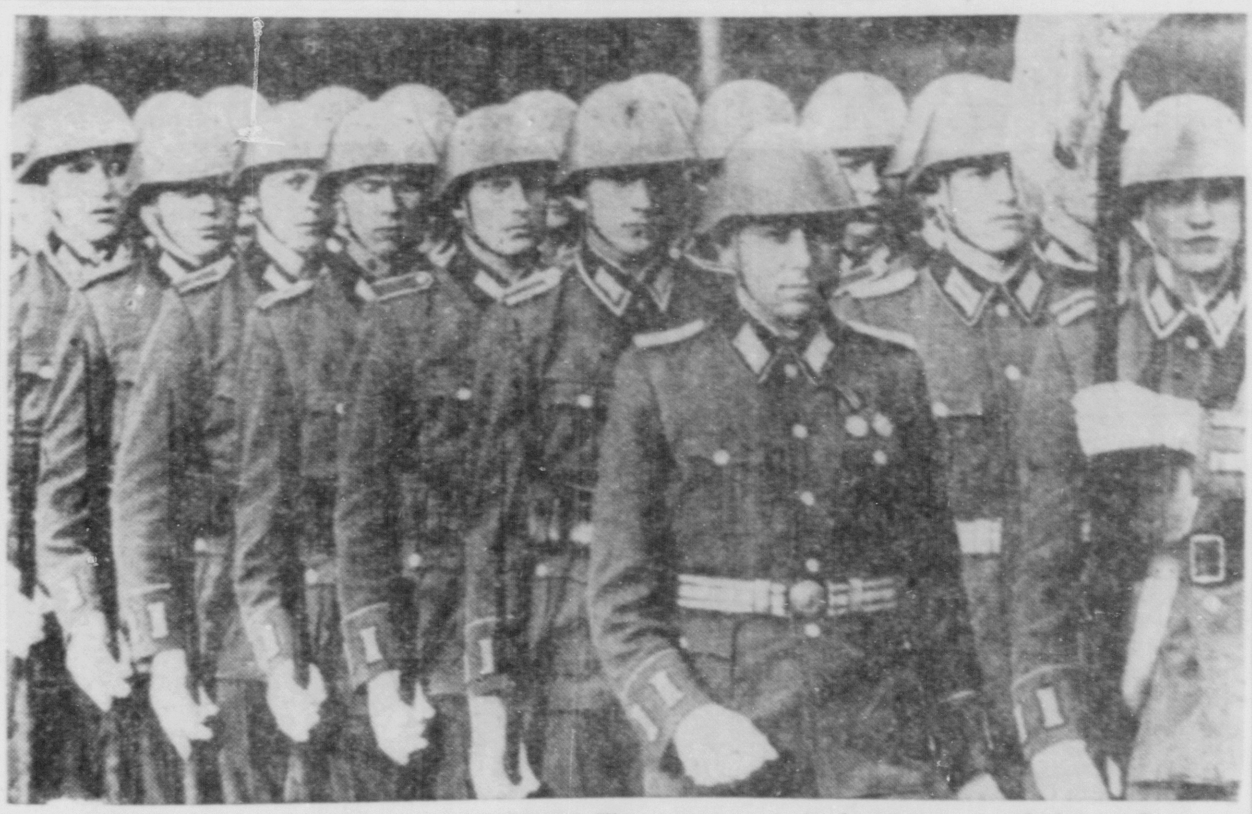
"The waves were high and it rained," she continued. "I managed to get my chin on the mattress and as it got soggy I wound my arms around a lump of it. Bill held on to one side and tried to swim beside me. Bill said it seemed we were in for it. I replied that my heart was all right with God and I started to pray with him."

Mrs. Nelson said they floated and prayed until daybreak. At dawn young Dozier began swimming and pushing the mattress in the direction of the shore.

Then a fishing boat approached.

"I shouted," said Mrs. Nelson. "Either they heard or saw me and came alongside, taking me and the mattress aboard. We went after Bill and in a few minutes he was in the boat too."

The rescued Floridans were returned to their schooner at Miragoane, 50 miles from Port au Prince. Those aboard the vessel include 32 Methodist ministers on a prayer and preaching mission in the Carribean.



FACES OF TODAY'S EAST GERMAN ARMY. These men comprised an honor guard of East German troops who appeared in East Berlin during Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the Soviet satellite area. The men performed for the Communist boss as he visited a Russian monument in memory of soldiers killed in World War II.

Sewage Plant Help Unlikely

Project At Midland To Exceed $450,00

Revision of plans for Midland's sewage disposal plant are finished but Council sees little hope of getting a federal grant.

It was indicated the project would cost more than the original estimate of $450,000.

Chester Engineers of Pittsburgh, consultant on the project, informed Council Wednesday night it has finished revision of the 1948 plans.

The letter said the specifications for construction are nearly complete and all that remains is to compile the detailed estimates.

The firm recommended a revenue bond issue as the best financing method.

This pointed to the higher cost as a Council bond issue cannot exceed $450,000 but a revenue plan could.

The Pennsylvania Department of Stream Pollution recently notified Midland that aid on the disposal plant would not be given the borough this year and recommended that it apply again.

Council applied Dec. 31 but was rejected.

In the letter notifying Council that the borough was not eligible for a grant, the board said the borough would be placed in a high priority position on this year's request for grants. Council plans to file.

3 Publications On Israel Among Library's New Books

When Abba Eban was only 35 he was appointed ambassador of Israel to the United States and his country's representative at the United Nations.

In widely heralded eloquent chronicle, "Voice of Israel," Eban describes the birth pangs of his country. He reveals Israel's position on security in the Middle East. He throws considerable light on its conflict with the Arab empire, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian, who said another of Carnegie Library's new books is one by Hyman Goldin, who has compiled a "Treasury of Jewish Holidays."

Handy appendage to this volume is a 20-year calendar of Jewish feasts and fasts.

Travelers to Israel always return with great enthusiasm for the civic planning and imaginative architecture of the new land. Gershon Canaan has an exciting pictorial study on "Rebuilding the Land of Israel." There is much here for the archeologist and the architect about temples and towns of Biblical fame.

The suggestions for providing housing in Israel's four climatic zones follow the precepts of Frank Lloyd Wright. For those who are fascinated by this geat dreamer, his "Autobiography" recalling good times and bad times is also displayed with the book on Israel.

This volume written over a period of years transforms Wright from a frequently denounced lunatic to a constructive genius.

Two biographies based on deep spiritual conviction are featured in this week's display: George N. Patterson, 29-year-old Scot who relinquished his wealth to become a missionary in Tibet, recounts his oriental adventure in "God's Fool;" Brian Hesson, an Episcopalian parson from England, came to America to expedite religious films for the Church of England. While in this country he was diagnosed as a cancer case. Doctors gave him less than a week to live, but now, 3 years later, he still is going strong and currently on a new project which he has christened Cancer Anonymous — to bring new hope to the afflicted. The title — "Determined to Live."

A sextet of summer fiction includes: "Valley of Eagles," by Dexter Allen; "The Moon by Night," by Joy Packer; "The Crown Tree," by Legette Blythe, and three mystery thrillers, "Truth about Claire Veryan," "Death of an Ambassador" and "Motive for Murder."

Girard Transferred To Another Camp

TOKYO (AP)—Under military police escort, Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard was transferred from Camp Whittington to Camp Drew, 10 miles away.

The move was part of a general troop realignment resulting from withdrawal of U.S. Army combat units from Japan. Girard will be taken from Drew to Maebashi for the opening Aug. 26 of his Japanese court trial on a charge of fatally shooting a Japanese woman scrap metal collector.

A photographer who covered the transfer reported that the Illinois soldier and four military policemen traveled at high speed over a roundabout route between the two camps. Less than a quarter mile from Whittington they hurriedly switched to another vehicle waiting for them, the photographer said.

An Army spokesman said the car switch was strictly unofficial and not part of any plan to evade newsmen.

Boy, 12, Drowns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jimmy Bulla, 12, Columbus, drowned in the Olentangy River her Wednesday. Two companions with whom he was fishing tried vainly to rescue him by extending a pole that wasn't long enough.

Burgess To Continue Fight For Hospital

Burgess Eli Corak informed Midland Council Wednesday night he will continue efforts to secure a hospital for the borough. The Pennsylvania State Health Department last week rejected an application for state aid, declaring present facilities are sufficient.

He said there "are several ways to get around the health department rejection."

He said the planning commission could make a survey of the medical needs of the borough.

Corak said Aliquippa also was turned down but it obtained a hospital.

"We are not going to take this sitting down," he said. "How do they know conditions here when they make decisions on surveys that are several years old?" he questioned.

Arthur Reed, Council president, said that with Ohio Township and Midland building up a hospital is becoming a necessity.

Tommy Hitchcock Jr. is generally rated as the greatest polo player of all time. He first gained international fame in 1921 and was killed in World War II.

LISBON — The annual outing for foster-home children of the Columbiana County Welfare Department will be held Monday at Firestone Park in Columbiana.

Parents of the foster homes and welfare department workers will be guests.

Chess is called the game of kings, and horseracing the sport of kings.

Pimientos Add Zest To Chicken, Noodles

Chicken and noodles never had it so good before. Tender pieces of chicken over noodles which have been cooked with flavorful whole canned pimentos make the best tasting main dish you could put before a hungry family.

The secret is the blending of the delicate flavors of the pimiento with the other seasonings in the broth in which the chicken has been cooked.

As with most good one-dish recipes, this one too has variations. The chicken can be a whole chicken, cut into pieces—or your favorite pieces—or, if you prefer, a whole chicken gently stewed and the meat removed from the bone before serving — just so long as you follow the directions for the delicious pimiento-flavored broth in which to cook the noodles.

Chicken 'n Pimiento Noodles

1 large broiler chicken, cut-up (or pieces of your choice)
2 Tbs. butter or margarine.
Salt
½ tsp. celery salt
1 quart water
4 Tbs. chopped onions
1 4-oz can or jar whole pimiento
1 12-oz. package broad egg noodles
1 cup milk

Season chicken with salt. Heat butter in large heavy kettle. Brown chicken on all sides in butter. Add celery salt and onion. Cover with 1 quart of water and lower heat. Simmer until chicken is tender — about 45 minutes. Remove from broth.

To the broth in which chicken has been cooked, add chopped pimiento and milk and bring to a boil. Add noodles immediately and cook until tender — 10 to 12 minutes. Add more seasoning if necessary. Serve immediately, placing chicken on top of noodles in large platter. Garnish with extra pieces of pimiento and parsley. Any sauce left in the kettle may be served in a separate dish to pour over the chicken and noodles.

Youngster Hurt In Fall From Cart

A Glenmoor boy, hurt in a fall from a homemade cart, and a Toronto construction worker, injured in a scaffold accident, were admitted Wednesday to City Hospital where a road worker and a Chester boy were treated yesterday.

Phillip Luverne Boso, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boso of Glenmoor, is in "fairly good" condition today with lacerations of the nose and head bruises suffered in the cart mishap last night near his home.

Herbert Watson, 30, of Toronto, a carpenter for the Foundation Co. of Stratton, is in "fairly good" condition with a partial fracture of the left leg. While walking on a scaffold, a board broke and he fell, landing on both knees.

Dick McCune, 152½ Pennsylvania Ave., employe of the Codell Construction Co., was treated for a laceration of the lower left arm received from an ax while clearing brush along Route 7 near Yellow Creek.

Terry Dailey, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dailey of Chester R. D. 1, suffered a possible fracture of the foot when struck by a brick.

Fish fillets are marketed with or without skins. They are the sides of the fish, cut lengthwide away from the backbone. Count on fillets being entirely or almost boneless.

40 Attend Outing For Church Group

About 40 members and wives of the Chester Christian Church Brotherhood attended a meeting and corn and wiener roast Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Garey of Westfield.

The Rev. A. F. Hanes led singing with Mrs. Elmer Kell pianist. Albert Kell, president, conducted business. The Brotherhood will meet Sept. 11 at the church.

30 Orphans To Swim Free In Midland Pool

Midland Council will be host to some 30 orphans from the Beaver County Children's Home at the borough swimming pool Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m.

The "free swim" for the youngsters was approved by Council Wednesday night at the request of the Junior Women's Club.

Council decided it could not close the pool to the public that day for a private swim for the youngsters so it approved them being "Council's guests for the day."

The letter said the children will be under the supervision of mothers from the club and attendants from the home.

Following the swim, the group will picnic at the Lions Club pavilion near the pool.

Kaycee Council Plans Family Night Party

A Family Night party for members of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, will be held Saturday at 9 in the Kaycee Home. Plans for the affair were completed at the meeting of the council Tuesday night.

The council will also hold a "stag picnic" Tuesday at 6 p. m. at Cable Park near Williamsport. Ralph Yanni is chairman.

Officers will be installed at the meeting Tuesday, Aug. 27. James McGowan, district deputy, will be the installing officer. A buffet luncheon will follow. Charles Geon will be in charge of the installation and the supper.

Rule for salad decorators: try to have your garnish look as if it belonged to the salad and wasn't just added as an afterthought.

Excellent combination for a fruit salad: grapefruit and orange sections plus chunks of pineapple.

OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION

When The Music Rolls The Bandstand Rocks

MALONE N.Y. (AP) — Drummer Ernest Lavoie doesn't want the municipal band blamed for any rock 'n' roll musci emanating from the community-owned bandstand.

The bandstand's flooring is so unstable that the music stands wiggle when the brass section players beat time with their feet, he told the village board.

This, he said, makes it difficult to read music and produces the rock 'n' roll effect, "both musically and visually."

A Motley Garden

MANGUM, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Wilma Taylor decided to mix things up this gardening season. She planted flowers with her vegetables, and vegetables in her flower bed. She now has eggplant and parsley by her sweetpeas and larkspur, and roses and zinnias mingling with peppers and lettuce.

Underwood Continues On His Good Will Tour

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Cecil Underwood, his good will for eastern West Virginians lightly salted with sarcasm toward their two senators, today moved to the state's eastern tip.

The governor's good will party of Republican state officials visited Shepherd College and Harper's Ferry after spending the night at Berkeley Springs.

Before a crowd of 200 last night at the Morgan County fair, Underwood briefly interrupted his smiling bipartisan manner to again needle Senate President Ralph J. Bean (D-Hardy) and Majority Leader Clarence Martin (D-Berkeley).

In Charleston yesterday, before flying here, the governor criticized 16 Democratic senators for postponing consideration of his list of 100 appointments during the special session Aug. 5. He called the senators obstructionists.

Bean and Martin were leaders in the move to postpone consideration until the regular session next January.

During his speech at the fair, Underwood pointed to Road Commissioner Patrick C. Graney and said: "It just could be that a couple of state senators will get acquainted with him while we are here. I regret that we have to bypass the State Senate to get our job done."

Graney was one of Underwood's 100 appointees.

Returning to his good will motives, the governor said: "Charleston is separated from you by 30 miles of mountainous terrain. That's a long way any way you want to measure it.

"We come here tonight hoping to become better acquainted with the thriving, beautiful Eastern Panhandle."

Former Deputy Fined In Purse Theft Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The former chief civil deputy in the Montgomery County sheriff's office was fined $50 in Kettering City Court Wednesday on a charge of petit larceny.

Robert C. Davis, who resigned the deputy post Monday after his arrest Saturday, was charged with taking the purse of a 19-year-old Kettering girl from a parked car. He had been with the sheriff's office since January, 1953.

Keep In Trim

Beauty Routine Banishes 'Diet' Look

By Ida Jean Kain

With some dieters the face thins out rather quickly and friends are apt to warn against carrying diet too far. Of course, any remark about reducing showing in your face has an adverse effect on your spirits. If you are still considerably above your ideal weight, do not stop reducing — simply change your pace and follow this plan to restore the bloom. Keep your daily calories between 1,200 and 1,400 a day, or at the level necessary to reduce your weight about half pound a week. And make sure that the quality of your daily fare is not only adequate but optimum.

If you gained the excess weight on too many sweets and starches, then like as not you have a little "shoring up" to do nutrition-wise.

THINK OF PROTEIN foods as helping you to stay young as well as stave off hunger, and it will be a privilege to plan every meal around protein.

This food pattern provides an abundance of nutrients for keeping young: one pint of skim milk or buttermilk; ½ cup cottage cheese; an egg; 4 to 6 ounces (cooked weight) of lean meat, fish or chicken; a dark green leafy or deep yellow vegetable, 2 other cooked vegetables and all the raw vegetables you desire; 3 fruits, always one citrus; 2 to 3 thin slices of good quality bread, and butter limited to 3 half pats.

Whole grain cereal served with milk can be had on alternative mornings. Trim all fat from meats and avoid frying.

While your reducing rate is half pound a week, your slimming rate may be stepped up with exercise. Exercise is always rewarding, but perhaps most of all for the woman who is inclined to look too thin in the face.

Exercise rouses the circulation, discourages sagging and helps you to look and feel slim and firm. Also, enough exercise is important to the retention of protein and calcium. . .so exercise is all to the good for we are made of those nutrients.

Get into the beautiful habit of starting the day with a few stretching movements. . .stretch and stretch and release the movement slowly.

—:—

FOR A MORE willowy waist, add a side-bend to the stretch, hold for a slow count of six, then slowly release. Bend to the other side and again hold the extension stretch.

Exercise tones, tightens and slims. A daily two-mile walk is a beauty maker. In the cool of the morning or evening, walk. It won't be long before your friends will be exclaiming about how well you look.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Wake Up And Stretch." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Long-Range Outlook Offered On Weather

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau Wednesday predicted below average temperatures from mid-August to mid-September in the Pacific Northwest, Great Lakes area and northern New England.

Above normal temperatures are expected in the southern half of the nation from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast with greatest departures in the Central Plains. In other areas near normal averages are anticipated.

"Rainfall is predicted to exceed normal in the Great Lakes region, upper Mississippi Valley, far Southwest and Florida," the bureau said. "Subnormal amounts are indicated in the northwest Southern Plains and middle Atlantic States. Elsewhere precipitation is expected to be not far from normal."

Killed In Crash

ADA, Ohio (AP)—Mary Wenger, 22, Marysville, was killed in an auto-truck collision Wednesday on Ohio 30 South, near here.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent the bowl from moving all over the table when beating its contents?

A. Place a folded towel under the bowl. The beating also can be done with one hand while the seasoning is added with the other hand.

Q. How can I remove an unpleasant odor from the drains of the bathroom?

A. By disinfecting the drains regularly with a solution of two ounces of chloride of lime to one gallon of water.

Q. How can I save gas when doing small bakings?

A. Use a portable tin oven instead of the range oven.

$8,000 Worth Of Narcotics Found In Car

CLEVELAND (AP)—When Parma Heights police searched the suspicious car they found $8,000 worth of narcotics in gum wrappers on the floor, behind the ceiling upholstery, in one of the doors, in a seat, and in the glove compartment.

They removed one hub cap and found needles and a syringe.

Other parts of the auto gave up 1,000 gelatin capsules and a bottle of cutting mixture.

In the trunk they found $1,200 in bills in a suit case, and each of the car's three occupants had $200 on his person.

They jailed the driver, Howard Smith, 26, Cleveland, who pleaded guilty in Mayor's Court to a charge of illegal possession of narcotics and was held under $7,500 bond.

Smith said his two companions didn't know about the narcotics, and they were released.

The car was stopped Monday night, southbound on U.S. 42, but the arrests were not announced until Wednesday night by Police Chief Thomas Vanderwyst of the suburb.

Gallipolis Radio Station Kept Off Air By Fire

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — Radio station KJEH is off the air today because its control room and two broadcasting studios were heavily damaged by fire shortly after 3 a.m.

John E. Halliday, the owner, said the fire did $40,000 damage. Volunteer firemen from Gallipolis fought the blaze for more than an hour.

We kept your little car longer than we expected, Judy.
That was perfectly okay, Pop.

At least, you had our big car to drive while we were gone.
Yes, I had that.
Phyllis, I thought Judy might be miffed because we kept her car away for so long.

AFL-CIO Blasts At Ike Policies

CHICAGO (AP) — The Eisenhower administration's Economic policies Wednesday were branded by the AFL-CIO Executive Council as "designed to hasten a recession."

The council termed the policies "blundering," "confused" and "self-defeating."

"A dangerous and paradoxical situation confronts the American economy," said a statement issued by the council.

"Since the end of last year, industrial production has been going down. At the same time, prices have continued to move up despite softening demand and the rapid rise in the production facilities of the nation."

Leaders of the administration and of business are blundering dangerously, the statement said.

One of the factors hurting business by cutting down sales is the administration's "tight money-high interest" policy, the council contended.

The 35-member Executive Council neared the end of its four-day meeting after unanimously upholding President George Meany's ouster of Paul Dorfman as secretary-treasurer of a waste material handlers union in Chicago.

Meany acted two weeks ago after it had been disclosed Dorfman's wife and son ran an insurance business which made $100,000 a year handling welfare funds for two unions.

In an hourlong plea before the council, Dorfman said he personally did not benefit from the insurance business operated by his wife and son.

Fire Alarm Box Repairs Completed

Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville said today repairs have been completed on one fire alarm call box and the location of another has been changed.

Box 36 at 15th St. and Clark Ave. has been put back into service, he said. It was struck by a car about two weeks ago.

Box 45 has been moved from 25th St. and Clark Ave. to 22nd St. and Clark, he said. The change was made so the box will serve more area. Several houses have been moved into the 25th St. area because of the Route 7 relocation and the box now will serve more homes in the 22nd St. neighborhood.

Meg Lays An Egg By Not Coming Through Again

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (AP) — Meg O'Day laid an egg Wednesday by failing to do just that.

The little champion hen, who has produced an egg every day for the past 284, finally gave Rutgers University officials the bird.

She arose from her nest at the Hunterdon County egg laying test farm with the customary cackle but without leaving the customary egg.

Walter Keimer, staff member at the farm, phoned the sad news to the Rutgers agriculture experiment station in New Brunswick, sponsor of the test.

Officials at the station, who have touted Meg's 284-day achievement as setting a state, national and maybe even a world record, had hoped she could keep it up for a full 365 days at least.

Meg's marathon started last Oct. 1, 318 days ago, as part of a project to study the effect of breeding and feeding on egg production. Meg had been faithful for 317 of those days, missing only one previous day since the test started.
